1ST ARMY GAINS GROUND IN TUNISIA

REDS REACH EAST GATE OF NOVOROSSISK

Former Major Russian Naval Base on Black Sea Again Threatened.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 3—The Red Army has reached the eastern gate of Novorossisk, Black sea port which once was their major naval base on the Caucasus coast, it was revealed today.

A new map of the front, published officially here today, shows the Soviet lines in the Kuban river valley are based at the very eastern gate of the city, swinging upwards to the Sea of Azov about [illegible] miles east of Temryuk, in the Taman peninsula.

Temryuk is only a score of miles from the water of Taman bay, an indentation off Kerch strait which separates the peninsula from the Crimea.

The map also shows the Red army is within 36 miles of Smolensk at a point just northeast of Yartsevo, a rail station on the Moscow-Smolensk line.

Russia has completed her winter offensive against the German invasion army, the Soviets announced in a special communique which said that the Germans had lost 1,193,525 men, including 850,000 killed, during the Red army drive which saw the liberation of Stalingrad in what the Russians called "the biggest defeat in the history of wars."

The war bulletin was recorded in London by the Soviet radio monitor, from Moscow broadcasts.

Winter Offensive Ends

Officially, the Russians said the winter offensive was terminated March 31, going through four months and 20 days since last Nov. 10.

"During the winter campaign Soviet troops inflicted heavy military defeats on the enemy armies," the special broadcast said. "The Red army at Stalingrad inflicted on the German fascist troops the biggest defeat in the history of wars."

The war bulletin listed 185,328 square miles of Russian territory regained in advances that amounted to as much as 435 miles.

In addition, the Russians said they had destroyed or captured 5,090 German planes, 9,190 tanks and 20,360 guns, and listed as captured large stores of military equipment.

Axis prisoners numbered 343,-[illegible] officers and men. It was declared.

Restoration of the Volga route, one of Russia's most valuable traffic arteries, and clearing of long stretches of the Don river shores were hailed by Moscow as among the significant gains of the campaign.

Meantime, the German radio in a broadcast today asserted the Russians had lost 37,283 planes since the war began on the eastern front. The broadcast was heard by The Associated Press in London.

218 INDICTED ON LOTTERY CHARGES

Crestline Man Among Several Ohioans on List.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3—A federal grand jury indicted 218 persons, including several Ohioans, on charges of participating in the operation of four lotteries based on baseball pools, treasury figures and mutuel prices of horse races that grossed $2,000,000 annually.

The defendants, charged specifically with conspiracy to violate the lottery laws, were accused of acting as agents and distributors.

U. S. Attorney J. Albert Woll said approximately 45,000 tickets were printed here weekly and distributed nationwide. Firms named were the Lucky Strike Co., the [illegible] the Flyer Co. and the [illegible] Square Co.

Ohio defendants accused as agents and distributors included: [illegible] Co.—John Wesley [illegible], Portsmouth; William [illegible], Zanesville; Milton [illegible], Zanesville; Boyd B. [illegible], Lima; Harry Orson [illegible]; Cloyd E. Payne, [illegible].

[illegible] Co.—George Wetsel [illegible], Springfield; William [illegible], Lima; Frank [illegible], Lima.

20 JAP SHIPS ARE ATTACKED

Vessels Scattered in Attack by U. S. Planes; New Move on Guadalcanal Seen.

By The Associated Press

Allied warplanes have scattered another concentration of nearly 20 Japanese ships in the islands above Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today, amid signs that other enemy warships may be thrusting anew toward American-held Guadalcanal in the Solomons.

Two actions suggested the new enemy threat to Guadalcanal:

1. A Japanese communique, broadcast by the Berlin radio, asserted Japanese fleet planes had shot down 47 allied aircraft off the Russell islands, 50 miles northwest of Guadalcanal. Nine Japanese planes were listed as lost.

2. Tokyo's claim followed issuance of a U. S. navy announcement yesterday that American bombers attacked a force of five Japanese destroyers on the night of March 31-April 1 near Kolombangari island, 190 miles northwest of Guadalcanal.

Concurrently, the navy said,

OIL DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM RESHUFFLED

Ickes Acts To Relieve Shortage in East.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes today ordered a drastic reshuffling of the petroleum supply and distribution system in the midwest to expand the flow of fuel to the oil-short east.

Midwestern consumers will not be visibly affected, aids said.

The major objectives of the order, affecting 15 midwestern states including Ohio comprising petroleum district two, are (1) to secure maximum efficiency in the use of all transportation facilities in the area, thus releasing additional railroad tank cars to swell the number serving the east coast and (2) to increase supplies available for shipment to the east.

"What we are here directing," Ickes said in a statement explaining the order, "is the coordination of the supply and distribution of about 1,000,000 barrels of petroleum products per day (more than the peacetime consumption of all Europe) as though it were all distributed by a single company. * * *"

To achieve nearest-terminal deliveries, a network of zones is set up in the 15 states—Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, North and South Dakota, and Nebraska.

Ickes said he expected the zoning to also:

1. Shorten the distance any product is transported.

2. Eliminate most movements in a general southerly and westerly direction, substituting movements in a general northerly or easterly direction.

3. Eliminate back-hauling or cross-hauling of oil products.

4. Substitute pipeline movements for tank car, truck, barge or lake tanker movements, in many cases.

Sugar Stolen From Grand Prairie School

Thirty pounds of sugar, two large cans of cocoa, a small pipe wrench and a model airplane were stolen from the Grand Prairie school building Thursday night, sheriff's deputies reported today. The school was ransacked some time after 11 p. m. Thursday, school officials said.

City Recreation Chairman Named; Group Maps Plans

R. T. Mason Heads Committee; Members To Make Survey of Needs and Sources of Support.

Announcements of the appointment by Mayor Russell C. Snare of a city recreation committee headed by Robert T. Mason was seen today as the first step in the organization of a pleasure-time recreational program for young and old Marion this summer.

In a meeting at noon yesterday in Hotel Harding, Mr. Mason's appointment was approved by the five-man committee and J. Douglas Torrance, secretary of the city school board, was unanimously elected secretary of the committee. Other members appointed by Mayor Snare are Herbert Wade, who along with Frank Robinson, also of the school board, represents the labor faction, and U. A. Nystrom, newly-appointed member of the city park commission.

The group will hold its second meeting Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the city school administration building on South Prospect street to interview applicants for appointment as city recreation supervisor.

To Select Supervisor

Probable candidates for the position include athletic coaches presently employed in the city schools or college students who are majoring in physical education. Men or women qualified for the work are being urged to contact Chairman Mason for an appointment with the committee Tuesday.

In his opening remarks to the committee Mr. Mason stressed the importance of organized recreation this summer. He urged the committee to survey Marion recreational possibilities starting at once, rather than hire a professional recreation supervisor to check existing conditions and available facilities in the city.

Mr. Mason briefly outlined assignments for each committeeman.

Mr. Wade, representing organized labor, will make a report of suggestions for improvement of recreation in Marion as indicated by various labor groups. He also has been instructed to find out what extent labor groups will cooperate financially to accomplish improvements suggested by them. He will make a canvass of the different CIO unions, while Mr. Robinson will survey AFL groups.

To Check with Schools

In addition to serving as secretary of the committee, Mr. Torrance, aided by Mr. Robinson, will check all city schools on facilities which might be made available by the school board. Mr. Robinson has been assigned to checking the 11 elementary schools, while Mr. Torrance will check the three junior high schools and Harding High.

As a member of the three-man park commission, Mr. Nystrom has been asked to report on the commission's plans for operation of the parks this summer. He also will tabulate needs of the commission which can not be taken care of because of the lack of funds.

Mr. Mason will contact Marion industrial plants to find out what recreation plans are being mapped for employes and also to check on potential financial aid from various firms.

Each committee member was urged to complete the initial assignment so that complete reports can be assembled at a meeting tentatively set for April 15.

The committee favored selection of a supervisor and two or three assistants before arranging for the purchase of new equipment. Mr. Torrance remarked that able personnel can accomplish a lot more in the general direction of the committee's goal rather than the purchase of considerable equipment alone.

One member of the committee pointed out the history of previous playground projects, stating that equipment in unsupervised playgrounds usually was destroyed or stolen.

May Use Students

To supplement specially-trained supervisors who will direct the playground programs, Mr. Robinson suggested that present students in high school who are juniors might be acceptable as group leaders.

Funds available to the committee include nearly $1,200 collected by the Marion Amateur Day association in its first annual program last fall and $5,000 earmarked for recreation purposes by the Community Fund.

Disposition of money obtained from the Community Fund is subject to approval by the Fund's budget committee.

County Treasurer Marion Hinklin, who is president of the Amateur Day association, in a recent letter to Mr. Mason assured the new committee the full cooperation of his group.

In addition the committee will seek a federal grant through the office of defense, health and welfare service in Washington. Lloyd W. Reese, regional field representative for the agency, has met with Marion officials several times in the last year. Some time ago he told a group of Marion men interested in development of a recreation program that his agency might provide funds for the development of a program here since Marion has become a war-production center.

The committee concluded that detailed local recreation was more important than ever this summer with gasoline rationing and other war-time conservation programs in force. Emphasis for the present will be on arranging a program for Marion youth; the adult program will follow, the committee decided.

Stowaway Cat Now Mascot of Engineer Depot

A stowaway cat that remained a prisoner in a railroad box car for eight days has become one of the official mascots at the Marion Engineer Depot.

The cat made its arrival at the depot when workers unloaded a closely-packed box car and saw the animal come trotting out in the open, blinking after spending eight days in darkness.

Checking, they found the car came from the deep south and that the car had been closed and sealed eight days before. After being given food and water, the cat curled up in a corner of one of the warehouse buildings for a nap, and has since made the building its home.

It is a large cat, gray and white.

107 BEEF CATTLE BRING HIGH PRICE

Sell for $24,000 at Marion Stock Yards.

The Marion Union Stock Yards today reported one of the highest prices ever paid for a sizeable group of prime beef cattle—$17.25 a hundred for 107 whiteface Herefords sold by Ed Klingle of state route 98 north of Waldo.

The animals averaged around 1,300 pounds and brought a check totaling around $24,000.

They were to be shipped today to markets in New York.

CRAWFORD CO. MAN DIES IN SEA ACTION

Parents of Ensign Harold Auck Receive Notice.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 3—Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Auck of North Robinson received word today of the death of their only son, Ensign Harold Auck, in a telegram from the war department in Washington.

The telegram said Ensign Auck, a naval air corps flier, was killed during an engagement in the South Pacific. Particulars will follow in a letter later, the wire said.

He was a graduate of North Robinson High school and of Heidelberg college, Tiffin, where he played football and was a member of the Excelsior Literary society.

He enlisted in the naval reserve in 1941 and last August received his naval air wings at Corpus Christi, Tex. A week after receiving his commission he was married to Miss Katherine Merriman of Cleveland in a ceremony performed in the chapel at Heidelberg college.

2 DEALERS HIT POULTRY PRICE SQUEEZE; QUIT

Marion Co. Men Say OPA Ceiling Prices Force Temporary Closing.

Two large poultry and egg dealers in Marion county announced shortly before noon today they had quit buying and selling poultry until a price squeeze problem that has closed many large poultry houses in midwest cities is cleared.

Those in Marion county closing today as of 11 a. m. were George Underwood on North Main street in Marion and Louis Seckel of Caledonia. Both, however, will continue to handle eggs.

They said the price squeeze now existing virtually gives them only the choice of closing their doors, becoming "black market" operators in the eyes of the OPA or operating on a very limited basis.

Started Last Month

The price squeeze came about last month when OPA fixed ceiling prices, effective March 11, imposing limits on poultry dealers' prices. Farmers wouldn't sell under ceiling prices, and since there had been a series of price regulation changes in the past, some dealers continued to buy as best they could and market their products at their usual markup, one dealer reported. This brought OPA prosecutions in some cities.

The squeeze exists, dealers pointed out, because farmers can dress their own poultry and sell it for any price they can get, and most of them will "peddle" their own direct to consumers at good prices rather than sell to dealers under the ceiling prices. The situation, they said, leaves the dealers the choice of either closing or violating the OPA regulations or trying to operate on the reduced volume that comes in under ceiling prices. They added that in recent years poultry prices have at times ranged far above the price ceiling levels now imposed by OPA.

Up To OPA

The remedy, they declared, must come from OPA because poultry can't be bought and sold under existing price ceilings.

One dealer said he was adhering strictly to ceiling prices but was getting only about one-third of the volume of poultry he needed to supply his trade. Although the situation is difficult, he said he planned to remain open, but he faces the problem of having to parcel out his available poultry on the basis of about one-third of what the customers want.

At Cleveland, The Associated Press reported that the Cleveland Poultry Dealers association was urged to support a plan for basic price ceilings for poultry at the farm, with markups provided for handling. Sidney H. Moss, general counsel for the association, said in a letter to 200 key wholesalers, "Close your doors if you can not deal honestly under present price ceilings."

Poultry markets in Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago have been closed the past few days because dealers said, they could not purchase poultry to retail under present price ceilings.

Moss said OPA had been asked to establish a single classification for poultry "regardless of type of weight, except turkeys; fix an equitable base price at the farm, and set dealer prices from the base."

AMERICAN LIBERATORS HIT ITALIAN TARGETS

Heavy Damage Caused to Harbor in Sicily.

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, April 3—American Liberator B-24 bombers attacked Messina, Sicily, and San Giovanni on the opposite side of the straits on the Italian mainland at dawn yesterday and did great damage to those two railway-ferry terminals in low-altitude assaults, a United States communique said today.

The attack on Messina followed a night attack, a British communique said, and the American airmen expressed belief they had succeeded in wrecking both terminals on the vital supply route to Tunisia.

Explosions from thousands of pounds of bombs rocked the aircraft as they blasted away from altitudes of only 50 feet, the fliers said. Hits on ferry buildings and a ferry boat were scored. One ferry was believed destroyed and another was damaged by machine-gun fire from the low-flying planes.

The Liberators also bombed other targets in southern Italy and Sicily by daylight yesterday but clouds prevented observation of the results.

FRENCH REUNION UNDER NAZI RULE. Family life exists for the people of France today only as their Nazi lords may see fit. Millions of French soldiers were taken to Germany as prisoners in 1940. Some have been returned, emaciated and weak—in exchange for able-bodied workers. Taken from a captured German newsreel, these photos show heart-touching scenes as a wife embraces her husband, top, unseen since 1940. The two youngsters, below, were broken-hearted, because their father, expected, did not arrive with the others. Perhaps he never will. These are News of the Day Newsreel photos.

Revolt Threatened Against Veto of Farm Price Bill

Administration Acts To Prevent Action To Override President's Rejection of Bankhead Measure.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—With congress in recess for the week-end, administration leaders on Capitol Hill worked feverishly today to head off a farm bloc revolt that threatens to override President Roosevelt's veto of the Bankhead bill.

The test will come on Tuesday when the lawmakers will decide whether to sustain or reject the President's contention that the measure, which prohibits deduction of government benefit payments in calculating agricultural parity prices, is inflationary.

Senate Democratic leader Barkley of Kentucky conceded he would have difficulty mustering the necessary one-third vote in the senate to sustain the veto and defeat the farm bloc forces led by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), author of the controversial bill.

Looks to House

Barkley thinks the house, where the "city vote" counts more heavily, offers more favorable prospects for the administration.

The Congress of Industrial Organizations and American Federation of Labor came out flatly in support of Mr. Roosevelt's action, with their respective presidents, Philip Murray and William Green, issuing a joint statement to that effect.

However, Albert S. Goss, master of the National Grange, major farm organization, said he could "not agree with the President's reasoning or conclusions," and called the veto unfortunate.

Another legislative battle is brewing over the anti-sabotage bill which the house passed yesterday on a voice vote. Opponents of the measure, which provides a death penalty for a group of proscribed hostile acts, claim it could be used to curb freedom of the press and speech. They look to the senate to kill the bill.

Meanwhile, Senator Ellison D. (Cotton Ed) Smith, South Carolina Democrat, made plans to lay some tangible evidence before his colleagues that retail prices are out of proportion to what the farmer receives for his products.

The colorful legislator said he intended to send his clerks out next week to make some purchases and bring back the sales slips to show what they cost.

"Those city boys down at the office of price administration can wear their pencils out clean up to the erasers, but they can't deny that food's getting so high that before long the poor man won't be able to touch it with a 10 foot pole unless something's done," he said.

To Investigate OPA

On the other side of the capitol, the house small business committee prepared to start an investigation of OPA to determine whether it has exceeded its authority. Chairman Patman (D-Tex.) expressed belief it had. The OPA also is due for some probing by a special house committee investigating actions of federal agencies to determine whether they exceed authority granted by congress.

In the midst of these activities

NOT GUILTY PLEA MADE BY BEVARD

Soldier Held in Slaying Arraigned at Bucyrus.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 3—Pvt. Glore Bevard, 33, confessed slayer of Mrs. Wilma Reed, 29, during a quarrel in a northside apartment Sunday, March 21, pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging second degree murder when arraigned before Common Pleas Judge C. U. Ahl this morning.

After Judge Ahl set Bevard's hearing for May 18, John Carroll, Bucyrus attorney hired by Bevard's father for the arraignment proceedings only, called the court's attention to marks on Bevard's neck which Bevard contends resulted from a cord pulled around his neck by Mrs. Reed.

Carroll also asked the court to appoint counsel for the former Canton, Ill., soldier who was stationed at Camp Millard in Bucyrus at the time of the crime.

Also arraigned today were Walter Masters, charged in an indictment returned by the January term grand jury with carrying concealed weapons, and Clarence Kent, charged with assault and battery.

Masters pleaded guilty and at the suggestion of Prosecutor Leo Scanlon, the court considered the case as a misdemeanor and he was fined $25 and costs.

Kent's attorney, E. J. Myers, requested a bill of particulars, postponing arraignment of the Galion man for several days. He is charged by two Galion girls with grabbing them during a test dim-out in Galion in March.

FRESH TROOPS DRIVE NORTH AGAINST NAZIS

Gen. Eisenhower Reports on Situation After Inspection of Mareth Line.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 3—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, returning from conferences with Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery and Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, said today fresh forces under Alexander, with effective air support, were "continuing to make satisfactory progress" in the task of smashing the axis out of Africa.

The allied commander in chief inspected the Mareth front.

He said every American had a right to feel proud of the progress made and Americans in this theater shared the pride of the British in the achievements of the Eighth army in driving Field Marshal Erwin Rommel from the fortified Mareth positions.

The day's allied communique, reporting patrol activity all along the Tunisian front, said the British First army of Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson was making further progress in the north and inflicting casualties on the enemy. British and American aerial sorties against Rommel's retreating forces on the coastal road above Gabes were reported.

General Eisenhower said the air forces had produced a fighting machine of "the highest morale, great efficiency and complete determination to finish the job."

Eighth Army Units

Eisenhower said the situation now permitted the disclosure of certain dispositions of the troops fighting in Tunisia.

The elements which form General Alexander's 18th army group are:

The British First army under Anderson in the north, in which is incorporated a French corps under General Koeltz.

The American force under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr. in the center—recently regrouped and no longer a part of the First army—which includes four divisions that already have been in combat, the First armored division and the First, Ninth and Thirty-fourth infantry divisions.

The veteran British Eighth army under General Montgomery which includes, among other units, a New Zealand division, an Indian division and two British infantry divisions.

"The record of the Eighth army is too brilliant to need any praise," General Eisenhower told war correspondents. "It has chased one of the enemy's most powerful forces across the desert and it is still full of energy for the final blow in Tunisia.

"Every American soldier shares the pride of the British in the inclusion of these fighters in the allied forces."

Without mentioning specific locations in the allied advance beyond Sedjenane, 40 miles west of Bizerte, the communique said British patrols successfully engaged the forces of Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim and inflicted casualties.

Air Attacks Continue

In the air British and Americans continued assorted attacks on enemy troops and transport on the road north of Gabes where Marshal Erwin Rommel is being pressed back, and carried out continuous offensive sweeps despite bad weather.

La Fauconnierie air field 35 miles northwest of Sfax was bombed twice and a carpet of fires left across the target, the communique said.

Six German and Italian fighters were shot down yesterday, while four allied aircraft failed to return.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery concentrated his British Eighth Army north of the newly-recaptured port of Gabes today for a fresh push against the retreating axis Army of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in a drive to effect a junction with the American forces moving eastward from the allied springboard at Gafsa.

Christian Cooperation

A Sermonette

By DR. S. M. INGMIRE

Pastor of Epworth Methodist Church.

* * *

GOD needs the cooperation of all His creatures to build the Kingdom of God on the earth. Of course there are those who maintain that the Kingdom of God is not to be built on earth; yet Jesus in His model prayer says "Thy Kingdom come on earth, as it is in heaven." But regardless of where we think that He is going to build His Kingdom we perhaps could agree that God needs the cooperation of His Creation to make this a better world in which to live.

Some one has said that God never built a bridge or dug a ditch alone. We even are intrusted with the lives of little children and unless we cooperate with God by feeding and caring for the little lives they will die. God creates the seeds of all life but unless we plant them, water and cultivate them, they will not mature to bless mankind.

In this cooperative scheme of building the Kingdom of God there has been definite progress down through the years. To support this contention let me point you to the fact that as late as the Second century many people believed in demons. If someone became unbalanced mentally they put him in a cage and people were allowed to punch him with sticks for they thought he was possessed with demons. We have an instance of a deranged man that Christ healed by casting out the demons. In this day we have hospitals where the mentally ill can be treated and restored to society.

AGAIN in the days of Jesus the weakest child was often cast out to die of starvation and exposure. Today we have special clinics and schools to care for such cases. In the educational system there was practically no place for the weak child, and certainly there was no place for the girl child, because she was often thought of as incapable of learning.

It was Jesus' idea of the Kingdom of God that gave women the right to have a better place in society. Women were supposed to be seen an not heard. They were not allowed to vote or speak like the men. The wholesome attitude between the sexes is a part of the Kingdom development. There are some of us that attended the one room school, where at recess the boys and girls were separated and were only allowed to play 'andy over' as a part of their coeducational privileges.

Even in church the men sat on one side of the church and the women on the other.

THE attitude of kindness such as is taught to Boy Scouts with regard to animal life is definitely a Christian attitude. In fact all the attitudes of kindness to the weak and under privileged is a mark of a strength for the Christian. For the mercy [illegible] as we have been in [illegible] homes [illegible] aged [illegible] Red Cross [illegible] all forms of relief are a part of the Kingdom work.

[illegible] how we can believe that there has been so much progress when we are in the most [illegible] war of all time. We must remember that centuries ago it was the accepted thing to take your neighbor's goods and despoil his family if you were strong enough to do so. But now we have developed a conscience on the matter of war. We are saying that it is not right to attack the smaller nation or weaker people. The very fact that we have developed this conscience about war is definite proof that some day we will learn how to live peaceably in the Kingdom of God that Jesus prayed might be established on earth as it is in Heaven.

Certainly the Kingdom must be in the process of making when Madame Chiang Kai-shek, called the first lady of the world, whose Christian husband heads the worst persecuted nation during the last four years, states that "There must be no bitterness after the war—not even toward our enemies." This attitude is quite different from the old spoils system of the inequitable settlements which often fomented another war after a brief armistice.

Church Group To Meet at Knudson Home

The Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints, will hold a fireside chat meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Knudson of 480 Foster Lane at 8 p. m. Sunday with Elders Clyde Davis and Donald C. Nelson in charge. The life of the American poet, John Greenleaf Whittier, will be reviewed and some of his poetic works read by Miss Dixie Lee Swartz. The theological discussion will be on "Tithing" and "Infants Need No Baptism." After the meeting a recording of the history of the Mormon people and their journey to the Rocky mountains will be played. It is entitled "Sowing for Other Reapers."

Elders Davis and Nelson spoke on the Morning Meditation program over WMRN Thursday at 9:45 a. m. The program also included recordings from the Mormon tabernacle.

Holiness Association To Meet Tomorrow

The first meeting of the Marion Holiness association for the season will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in First Church of the Nazarene at South State and Columbia streets with Rev. Harry Stanley of Coshocton as guest speaker. Mrs. Eddie Burnem of Gallipolis who with her husband, Rev. Burnem, has been conducting special meetings in the Christian Holiness Tabernacle here, will sing and other music will be presented. The meeting is open to the public.

Forest Lawn Church To Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian church will be held in the community house Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. Each organization in the church will present a report which will be printed and distributed among the members of the congregation during April. Three trustees and four elders will be elected. The remainder of the evening will be spent in entertaining and reception of new members. The Ladies' Aid society will serve refreshments.

The trustees and their families will have a covered dish supper and business meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Armbruster of 192 Summit street Monday night.

The mid-week Lenten service with the First Church of the Brethren will be conducted in Forest Lawn church Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Rev. E. M. Hertzler will deliver the sermon and the Forest Lawn choir will sing.

Poll Shows British Feel War's Worst Yet to Come

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

P[illegible]TON, N. J., April 3 — [illegible] before Prime Minister [illegible] recent warning to the [illegible] that they still face [illegible] war, the British pub[illegible] [illegible] thinking [illegible] that the worst is yet [illegible]

[illegible] prime minister step[illegible] the house of commons [illegible] speech, he was talk[illegible] nation which believes [illegible]ngly that the British [illegible] be no means seen its [illegible]ghting and that Ger[illegible] not be defeated with[illegible]-scale invasion of the [illegible], using every ounce of [illegible] allies can muster. So far [illegible] majority of Britons are concerned, the Churchill warning against complacency was probably unnecessary.

Believe Invasion Coming

Despite Russian successes in the East and the often-advanced theory that Germany can be beaten into submission by bombing alone, the British public has long held the view that the Nazis can not be crushed without a large-scale invasion of Europe from the west or the south. Today that belief is more widely held than ever, as the following survey of the British Institute of Public Opinion indicates.

"Do you think it will be necessary for the Allies to invade the continent before Germany can be defeated?"

	Nov. 1942	Today
Yes	66%	76%
No	14	10
Undecided	20	14

In line with this sentiment is the widespread belief that the British armies still have their toughest battles ahead. When asked whether the British Tommies have seen their hardest fighting, 78 per cent of Britons said "no."

War Council Favored

There is a rising sentiment throughout England in favor of a supreme war council of all the United Nations to plan and direct the war on all fronts. At the time of the Casablanca conference there was much speculation both here and in England as to whether such a council would be set up.

The popular appeal which the idea has in Britain is shown in the following trend revealed by British Institute surveys:

"Should Britain, America, Russia and China form a supreme war council to plan and direct the war on all fronts?"

	Oct. 1942	Today
Yes	65%	76%
No	9	9
Undecided	26	15

British public sentiment does not, however, favor the appointment of one supreme commander over all the armed forces of the United Nations. Approximately one-third favor such a plan, while 40 per cent oppose it and the rest are undecided.

The general feeling is that it would be impractical for one man to try to take control of all the fighting fronts around the world.

SALES TAX FIGURES FOR MARION AREA LISTED

Week of March 20 Brings 11 Per Cent Decline In County.

A loss of 11.2 per cent in the sale of prepaid sales tax stamps in Marion county for the week ending March 20 was reported today from the office of the state treasurer. The decrease is partially due to Easter coming late this year resulting in a decrease in the volume of retail business as compared with a year ago. Sales a year ago when Easter came early totaled $6,752.48, compared with $5,996.03 this year.

Despite the drop for the week, sales totals for 1943 up to and including March 20 totaled $72,058.56, compared with $67,780.89 for the same period last year.

State collections of tax stamp proceeds for the week ended March 20 gained $19,972.82 over last year's collection for the period, the office of Don H. Ebright, treasurer of state, reported. Collections for the week totaled $962,367.86; last year the figure was $942,395.04.

In counties around Marion losses predominated in collections for the week ended March 20 as compared to collections for the like period last year, likewise in collections to date. Figures for surrounding counties for the week and for collections to date with those for last year in parentheses follow:

Crawford, week ended March 20, $3,077.97 ($3,638.33); collections to date, $39,799.55 ($41,898.98).

Delaware, week ended March 20, $1,836.38 ($1,238.05); collections to date, $18,634.81 ($19,140.97).

Hardin, week ended March 20, $1,836.11 ($2,234.67); collections to date, $24,455.36 ($22,918.20).

Morrow, week ended March 20, $412.91 ($534.76); collections to date, $5,092.57 ($5,890.03).

Union, week ended March 20, $1,280.97 ($1,068.98); collections to date, $13,419.86 ($14,216.99).

Wyandot, week ended March 20, $1,069 ($1,164.61); collections to date, $14,963.75 ($15,764.83).

CLEVELAND AWAITS WEEK OF OPERA

Series of Eight Programs To Open Monday.

Northern Ohio's own gift to the operatic stage, beauteous Helen Jepson, will be one of the galaxy of stars appearing with the Metropolitan Opera the week of April 5 at Cleveland. Miss Jepson, favorite of opera lovers the world over, is to sing the role of Marguerite in Gounod's "Faust," one of her outstanding portrayals, during the spring festival.

"Faust" will be given on the second night of Opera Week, Tuesday evening. Conducting this classic will be Sir Thomas Beecham, brilliant English maestro who scored such a success in his Cleveland debut as an operatic leader a year ago.

Miss Jepson will have a brilliant supporting cast. John Charles Thomas is flying from the west coast to make his only appearance as Valentin. Charles Kullman takes the title role and enacting other parts will be Lucielle Browning, Thelma Votipka and Norman Cordon.

The eight operas to be presented during the week are: Monday, "La Forza del Destino;" Tuesday, "Faust;" Wednesday, "La Traviata;" Thursday, "Carmen;" Friday, matinee "La Boheme," evening, "Aida;" Saturday, matinee, "The Barber of Seville," evening "Il Trovatore."

Prospect Girl Elected Head of Baptist Group

Mrs. Harriet McPherson of Prospect was elected president of the Marion association of World Wide guilds at the annual spring rally Tuesday at Trinity Baptist church. Miss Anna Disterdick of Green Camp was elected vice president; Miss Maxine Roe of Fite Memorial Baptist church, secretary; Miss Margie Sorreles, treasurer; Miss Jean Russell of Trinity church, pianist.

Mrs. Barnett of Westerville, a former missionary in China talked on "Will the Youth of China Rise Again?" Marjorie Sheppard of Green Camp led devotions and Marth Woy of Fite Memorial church sang. A quartet from Fite Memorial church also sang. Refreshments were served by members of Trinity Guild.

Vitamin Guide for Gardners

Associated Press Features

Every Victory Garden general should have a commissary department aide to determine the family needs for a year.

Nutritionists say these quantities of vegetables are needed by each person:

For Vitamin C, tomatoes should be served six times a week.

Leafy green and yellow vegetables, rich in Vitamin A and iron: Served seven times a week.

Other vegetables such as beets, cauliflower, celery, onions, parsnips, sweet corn, turnips, rhubarb, etc.: One of them served four times weekly.

Potatoes or sweet potatoes should be served once a day.

Dried beans peas or nuts should be served once a week.

Roughly, one foot of garden row will produce enough snap beans, beets, collards, kale, leaf lettuce or radishes for a family of four; two feet, enough lima beans, carrots, parsnips or turnips; three feet, enough spinach, and one-half foot, enough Swiss chard and tomatoes. This is for one meal only.

MURRAY CHARGES TROOPS LACK ENOUGH SUPPLIES

Cites Waste and Inefficiency in Shipping Program.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3 —CIO President Philip Murray charged yesterday that lives of American and allied fighting men "are being endangered and lost because of insufficient supplies, or delays in supplies reaching the armed forces."

In a statement on overseas shipping, presented to Senator Downey (D-Calif.), Murray said "waste, confusion and lack of planning are holding down the efficient use of our available shipping resources to an alarming degree."

Demanding an immediate investigation, Murray said the CIO and its four maritime union affiliates "are firmly convinced that the ship construction program alone will never provide enough ships and space to transport weapons and material to supply and support the fighting fronts."

In his statement to Downey, Murray charged that repeated suggestions of union plans and ideas to correct the situation have produced no results to date, adding that federal agencies responsible "turn away our suggestions" and give themselves a clean bill of health.

The statement criticized [illegible] and lack of planning in ship repairs, waste in manpower, particularly in failure to train skilled seamen, long delays and bad treatment in repatriation of torpedoed seamen, and other items as part of a general picture of mismanagement and inefficiency."

Nation's Fire Losses Held at Previous Level

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Despite intense industrial activity due to war production, 1942 fire losses were held to approximately the level of the year before, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Fire Waste Council reported yesterday in naming Milwaukee, Wis., as grand winner in their annual jointly sponsored fire waste contest.

In grading winners, the council gave credit for fire loss records, educational activities in fire prevention, organization for fire defense and permanent improvements to eliminate fire hazards.

Van Wert, O., received honorable mention in the city class of less than 20,000 population.

ODT Urges Proper Lubrication For Your Car Every 1,000 Miles or at Least Every Sixty Days

Less Driving and Slower Speeds are Harder on Your Car or Truck

HERE'S WHY . . .

With more frequent stops and starts and slower driving speeds, you are not driving fast enough or far enough to generate sufficient heat to "cook" away vapors and gases of combustion or the moisture which collects on metal parts. This mixture of water, vapors, acids and carbon with the oil develops sludge — thus greatly increasing rust and corrosion of rings, cylinders, pistons, valves and other engine parts.

PLAY SAFE

Whether you make frequent stops and starts or drive longer distances at slower speeds, it will pay to have your engine thoroughly house cleaned. (A real De-Sludging Job) thereby giving you greater economy and dependability of operation.

The Preventive Maintenance program recommended for the U. S. TRUCK AND CAR CONSERVATION CORPS is based on inspection and service every 1,000 miles, with more comprehensive check-ups at 5,000 and 15,000-mile intervals. It is significant that the first step in each of these service schedules is complete lubrication in accordance with manufacturers' wartime recommendations. The creators of the plan recognize in such protection the greatest single means of extending the life and reducing the upkeep of vitally needed car and truck equipment.

Correct lubrication — in addition to the specialized lubricants developed—calls for carefully cultivated habits of procedure, based on easily interpreted, 100% accurate lubrication charts. Such charts make a basic contribution to auto and truck conservation, and thus help to prevent a breakdown of transportation.

RICHWOOD AIR PILOT NAMED INSTRUCTOR

Leo C. Grindell Assigned To Post at Airport.

Having completed [illegible] training at the Galesburg, Ill., flying school, Leo C. Grindell of Richwood, a second lieutenant in the civil air patrol, has been [illegible] at the Toledo Municipal [illegible] as a civilian instructor.

Lt. Grindell will teach prospective army and navy pilots for the Motrail Flying Service of Walbridge, O. His job will be similar to that of Art Freeman, former Marion airport manager, in the "washout course." This course is one that eliminates all the pilots who do not come up to government qualifications, thereby saving Uncle Sam considerable expense in training.

Prior to his schooling at Galesburg, Lt. Grindell was a C.A.P. instructor at the Sullivant Avenue air field in Columbus. Before that, he was a civilian teacher at the Springfield and Urbana airport.

Before the war, Lt. Grindell was a member of the Marion Aviation Boosters' club and active at the Marion airport. He has always been interested in flying and owned a plane at the Marion field.

Grindell, married and the father of an infant son, is the son of Mrs. Flora M. Grindell of Richwood.

Government Takes Over K. of P. Children's Home

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 3 — The federal public housing authority announced it had leased the Knights of Pythias Children's home in Springfield and had contracted with the Kloepfer & Duff Co. of Springfield to convert it into 275 accommodations for women workers at Patterson Field, near Dayton.

The FPHA also contracted with the B-W Construction Co. of Chicago to construct 320 family dwelling units adjacent to Fairfield and Osborn to house civilian workers at the field and the Army air force center at Dayton to help relieve overcrowding in the Dayton-Springfield area.

Air Forces Materiel Headquarters Moved

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Transfer of headquarters of the Army air forces materiel command from Washington to Wright Field at Dayton, O., was announced today by the war department.

Brig. Gen. Charles E. Branshaw, formerly supervisor of the western procurement district, was designated Monday as commanding general of the materiel command. He succeeded Major Gen. Oliver P. Echols, who became assistant chief of air staff for materiel, maintenance and distribution in the recent air forces staff reorganization.

The materiel command is responsible for research and development of aircraft, equipment and supplies peculiar to the air forces, as well as for procurement and production of approved models.

Ohio Flier Killed in Florida Crash

By The Associated Press

SEBRING, Fla., April 3—Second Lt. James H. Miller of Dayton, O., and four other men were killed in the crash of a heavy bomber from Hendricks Field, a public relations officer reported today. Miller was listed as a student.

The report said the accident occurred south of Lake Placid, about 20 miles from here, yesterday. Further details were not given.

Miller's mother, Mrs. Clyde Miller, resides at Portsmouth, O., and his wife at Sebring.

WYANDOT CO. COURT CLERK IS STRICKEN

Porter A. Hendricks Dies at Home in Carey.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 3—Funeral arrangements were being completed today for Wyandot county clerk of courts Porter A. Hendricks, who died suddenly Friday of a heart attack at his home in Carey.

Mr. Hendricks had returned to his duties at the clerk's office in the court house here Monday, after a week's illness from influenza. He had apparently recovered and seemed to be in good health until but a short time before his unexpected death.

His death marked the second occasion when the official filling the office of clerk of courts in Wyandot county has died suddenly during his term of office. Mr. Hendricks succeeded the late Charles K. Crise, whose death occurred in 1941. Both men were 50 years of age and both died of a heart ailment.

Mr. Hendricks was born at Vanlue, Oct. 8, 1892, the son of the late John and Laura (Buckingham) Hendricks. For many years he was in the hay buying business with his father and brother, and was for seven years manager of the Carey Mill and Elevator.

He served a term as mayor of Carey and had served the village council and board of public affairs. He was appointed clerk of courts, Jan. 1, 1942, to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Crise, and was elected to the office in November 1942.

Mr. Hendricks was united in marriage with Reva Daniels, Sept. 10, 1919. She survives with a daughter, Miss Mauvalyn Hendricks, who is employed at Fostoria. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Frederick Sopher of Carey, and four brothers, Elbie Hendricks of Findlay, Fred, Eugene and Frank Hendricks of Vanlue, and a stepmother, Mrs. John Hendricks of Carey.

He was a member of Memorial Evangelical church at Carey, Earl Green Post, American Legion, and the Kr[illegible]. The body [illegible] Goff funeral home.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 1:30 p. m. in the Memorial church by Rev. D. L. Lee. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery north of Carey.

NOTICE TO NON-RESIDENT DEFENDANTS

Joe H. Bindley and Barbara Bindley, whose place of residence is 2905 Cherry Avenue, Holswade Park, Huntington, West Virginia, and who are devisees and legatees of H. L. Bindley, deceased, will take notice that on the 2nd day of April, 1943, Harriet H. Bindley, as Guardian of the above named Joe H. Bindley and Barbara Bindley, filed her Petition in the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, alleging that it is necessary for the education of said Wards, and for the best interest of the Estate of said Wards, to sell the following described real estate, owned in fee simple by said Wards, and praying for an Order to sell the same:

Situated in the County of Marion, in the State of Ohio, and in the City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows: Known as part of Lot thirty-seven hundred seventy-five (3775) in Hill's Second Addition of the City of Marion, Ohio, bounded and described as follows: Commencing at the northeast corner of said lot; thence southerly on the west line of Kenmore Avenue, heretofore known as "Montrose Avenue" 110 feet; thence westerly parallel with the north line of said Lot 50 feet to the east line of Lot thirty seven hundred seventy-four (3774) in Hill's Second Addition to the City of Marion, Ohio, thence northerly on said east line of said Lot 3774 to the south line of Center Street; thence on said south line of said Center Street in said City, fifty (50) feet to the place of beginning.

The above described premises to be used for residence purposes only.

ALSO:

Situated in the County of Cheboygan in the State of Michigan, and in the Township of Tuscarora and bounded and described as follows:

Being known as Lot number Sixteen (16) of Cold Springs Tuscarora Township, Cheboygan County, Michigan, a plat of which is duly recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds of said County on page 77 of Book 2 of Plats.

Also, that portion of Lot Eight, Section Five, Township Thirty-five, North Range Two West, Michigan, which is situated north and west of the right of way of the Michigan Central Railroad Company and containing five acres more or less.

Said Defendants, and each of them, are required to answer on or before the 5th day of June, 1943, or judgment will be taken accordingly.

MURDER AND SUICIDE VERDICT RETURNED

Summit Co. Coroner Reverses Self in Co-Ed Mystery.

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 3 — The double slaying of Miss Lucia D'Aprano, 23-year-old Kent State university co-ed, and George [illegible] Reynolds, [illegible] and country club steward, was murder and suicide, Summit County Coroner R. E. Amos agreed today.

Reversing an earlier verdict of double murder, the coroner said nitrate tests disclosed powder burns on Reynolds' hand, indicating he had fired the death weapon, a .32 calibre [illegible] with his left hand.

The bodies of Reynolds and Miss D'Aprano, a senior from Cleveland who worked part time as a waitress at the country club were found last Tuesday [illegible] a parked automobile on Route 8, halfway between Akron and Cleveland. Dr. Amos [illegible] the time of death at about 10 p. m. Sunday.

In his original verdict of double murder, the coroner declared Reynolds was shot twice and the co-ed three times. One bullet entered Reynolds' left side and coursed upward to the right; the second entered his chest, Dr. Amos said, contending the wounds indicated the steward had been shot from angles both to the left and right of his body.

Sheriff Walter P. O'Neil and Prosecutor Alva J. Russell argued Reynolds fatally shot Miss D'Aprano at Silver Lake, drove 12 miles with her body, then shot himself.

How well do you know your War Bonds?

Q. Why does Uncle Sam want you to put money into War Bonds—
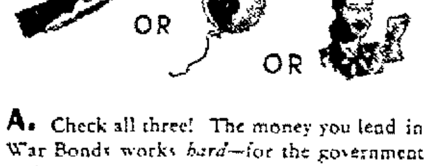
.... to pay for equipping our fighting forces?
.... to help keep prices down?
.... to give you extra money after the war?



A. Check all three! The money you lend in War Bonds works hard—for the government and you! It helps pay for victory, helps keep prices down. And it comes back with interest!

Q. If you put $3 into War Bonds, how much do you get back—
.... $3.00? .... $3.50? .... $4.00?

A. For every $3 you put into War Bonds you get $4 back when the bonds mature! And how those extra dollars mount up! Look at this: You buy a War Bond today at $18.75. In 10 years you get $25.00. You buy a War Bond today at $37.50. In 10 years you get $50.00. You buy a War Bond today at $75.00. In 10 years you get $100.00.

Q. How much money should you put into War Bonds—
.... 10 percent of your pay? .... 12 percent? .... 15 percent?

A. Every loyal American ought to be putting at least 10 percent of his pay into War Bonds. And more if he can possibly do it. War Bonds make good sense—for selfish reasons as well as patriotic ones! Put every cent you can into War Bonds—and both you and your country will benefit!

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

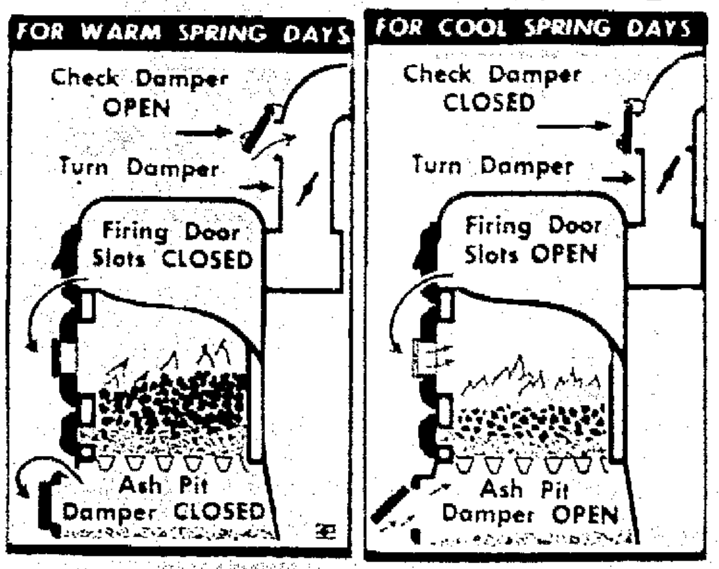
Pile on Coal for Spring!



Associated Press Features

Fill your furnace with coal to prevent overheating your home in spring. That's the advice of Anthracite Industries, Inc., a trade organization. "When anthricite coal is filled to the level of the furnace fire door," they say, "the fire burns more slowly and gives off less heat than when there is little coal in the furnace." That explains the paradox. In quick-changing spring days, householders are advised to maintain a deep bed of ashes to prevent overmuch air reaching the fire. Load coal to fire door. Should weather turn cold, merely open ashpit door to increase air, close check damper and open turn damper slightly. The stored coal will blaze into warmth.

Children's Room In Attic Is Inexpensive

Children like a room of their own, and something that is different. Surely an attic room which may be irregularly shaped to conform to gables, will have individuality from the rest of the house. Built-in beds under the eaves are snug and provide attractive couches for daytime playing.

A room like this can be inexpensively built with panels which will insulate the room as well as make it attractive.

Nursery rhyme characters can be stenciled on the walls, model airplanes hung from the ceiling and tennis rackets and skis displayed for decorative purposes.

Rommel, the Goat

OF ALL German generals in the war, Marshal Rommel comes closest to commanding [illegible] respect for his military ability. But Rommel, too, is in trouble. He is up against a combination of power too formidable for him.

His fate in Tunisia is destined to be identical with the fate of one of the greatest of all generals, Hannibal, on the same battleground in the second century before Christ. Hannibal's military genius, backed by the determination of Carthage to destroy Rome, had seemed insuperable. But necessity created another great general, Publius Cornelius Scipio. The Roman had learned the lessons Hannibal taught so well that in the year 202 B. C. he overwhelmed the master's veterans on the same battlefield now being used for the showdown between Rommel and the forces that will overwhelm him and, ultimately, Germany.

Rommel is the goat for the military repercussions caused by Germany's bid for world domination. Once possessor of the best equipment and the finest troops, he now finds arrayed against him better equipment, better troops and better leaders—all created by the necessity of overcoming him and his kind. The savage sword with which the Axis hoped to conquer the world has caused even more savage swords to be fashioned—and the Axis plotters will perish by them. If Rommel has time for anything but flight, he should re-read the story of Hannibal, finally crushed by the pre-Biblical version of blitzkrieg he devised but could not monopolize.

A Vice President of Top Rank

A COMMUNITY'S greatest feeling of pride comes from the lives and achievements of the men and women of note it has produced, particularly those whose work has contributed to human progress and welfare.

Marion has had its share of gratification from that source and doubtless the future will bring more, for there are those now getting started in various fields who are certain to swell the roll of notables.

Yesterday the city had reason for throwing out its chest several extra inches when news dispatches told of Dr. Edgar C. Bain's continued success in the field of metallurgy. His appointment to a vice presidency in one of the nation's great steel corporations was just one of the many signal honors that have come to him in recognition of his wealth of knowledge and ability.

The title of vice president is not in itself the real mark of distinction, for vice presidencies are numerous and varied among the country's great business concerns and do not always signify service of exceptional importance. The majority are of value only to the business of which they are a part. But in the case of Dr. Bain, the steel corporation has a vice president of extraordinary rank and significance. In charge of research and technology, his work can be of benefit not just to this one corporation. His study and research present the possibility of discoveries and new processes helpful to industry and the human race everywhere.

This sort of work he has been doing for years, and with noteworthy results, but it seems likely that his new position will open the way for even greater accomplishments. Needless to say, people of Marion will be among the most interested observers of his future.

Tipped Off by the Experts

REP. GEORGE H. BENDER'S objections on the floor of the house to what he calls a "campaign of vilification" against Gov. Bricker as a presidential possibility will help to direct attention to something that sports fans will understand at first sight.

That is the fact that Gov. Bricker has been spotted by the experts as the man to watch. They aren't vilifying Gov. Stassen of Minnesota, or Gov. Dewey of New York, and they even have begun to lay off Wendell Willkie. By the rule that the fellows who take this sort of thing most seriously can be depended on to tip off the play, Gov. Bricker is the man to watch. The experts wouldn't be taking the trouble to "vilify" anyone they thought wouldn't be running in front in 1944. On the basis of their interest, it's beginning to look like the right time to lay a few dollar bets on the governor in the future book—at the right odds, of course.

Today and Tomorrow

Labor Leaders' Decision To Help Stabilize Food Prices Expected To Win Public Support.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

NEW YORK, April 2—Not for a long time has anything so promising happened on the home front as the decision which the labor leaders made public after their meeting at the White House Thursday.

Mr. Green and Mr. Murray tell us that, instead of a campaign to increase wage rates, they will campaign to stabilize food prices. They could not have made a decision which serves better the country as a whole, their own rank and file and the cause of organized labor.

The argument which John L. Lewis made recently proved conclusively that labor itself has nothing to gain by forcing up wage rates in the hope of catching up with the rising cost of living. For Mr. Lewis admitted that in the absence of effective price control, the retail shops in the mining communities were charging his miners what they could afford to pay. More pay would merely mean that the miners would be charged still more, and that they would, therefore, be no better off. The only remedy, then, was to deal with the prices of food rather than with wage rates.

This view we now learn, has prevailed with the combined labor victory committee, which is headed by Mr. Green of the AFL and Mr. Murray of the CIO. If they act on it, and are encouraged as most certainly they should be, to line up the influence of organized labor behind price control and rationing, they will revolutionize for the better the whole situation on the home front.

Plan Needs Public Support

The system could never be made to work if the great mass of the wage earners looked not to rationing and price control for their salvation but to wage demands backed by the threat of strikes. That could only inflate the black market and make the proper distribution of food impossible and give the weakest and poorest the short end of the stick.

In every community the officers and the rank and file of labor will be a body of inspectors and economic policemen. They will be far more alert and competent for enforcement than OPA officials alone could possibly be. They will be in a position to know how rationing actually works, to report quickly where it is not working, and to carry out the complaint until it is remedied.

In doing this the leaders of organized labor will alter radically their relations to the community. Instead of finding themselves isolated and opposed to the interests of the rest of the people because they threaten to interrupt war production and to wreck the price structure, they will become the champions of the interests of all the people.

The equally ugly controversy between the farm bloc and the rest of the nation could also be settled. The farm bloc has nothing to gain by a policy which makes them the enemies of a stable cost of living. It is to their best interest also to be champions of a standard of life which provides adequate food at stable prices. They must, therefore, wish to see rationing work.

It is also true, however, that in order to obtain maximum production of the particular foods which are most needed in the war, farmers must have the inducement of prices which not only cover their costs but yield an incentive profit. Therefore, the community must not be dogmatic about "ceilings" but must take the view that it will pay for food, as it pays for airplanes, what it is necessary to pay to get the food.

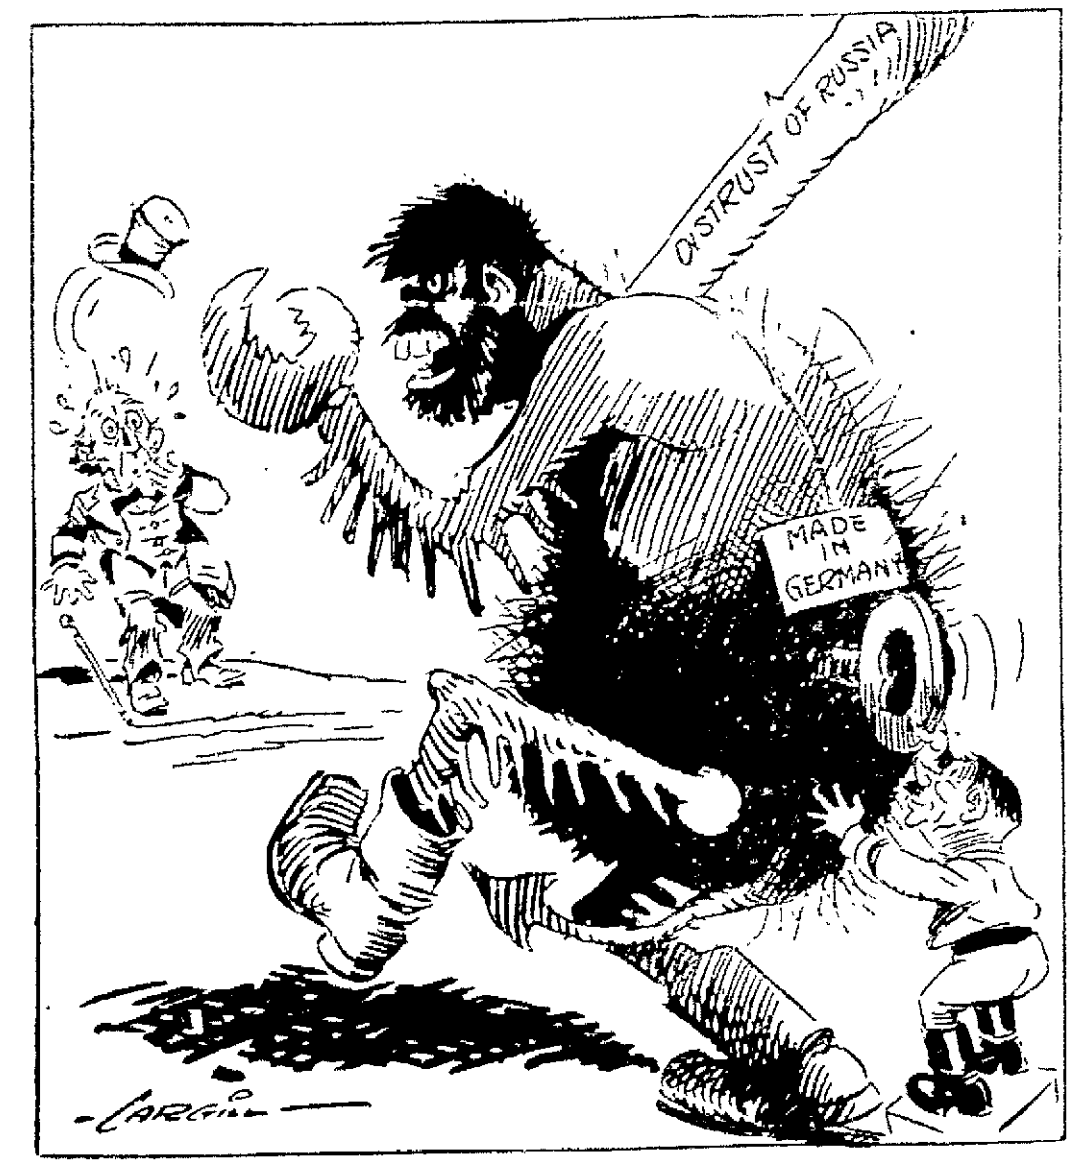
No Actual Conflict

This seems to raise a conflict of interest between the farmers' incentive profit and the consumers' need for stable prices. But the conflict is apparent rather than real; it arises from the dogmatic prejudice of the farm leaders against subsidies and the dogmatic prejudice of others in favor of frozen prices.

Let all the prejudices be laid aside, and the practical and self-evident solution, which every country has adopted, emerges. It is to use government subsidies to close the gap between the higher inducements which farmers need and the fixed prices which the consumers need.

The money invested in those subsidies is as much a legitimate cost of war as any other war expenditure, and a few hundred million dollars used to make rationing work will pay high dividends in efficiency and good will.

"BIG BEAR" THAT WALKS LIKE MAN



Life on Battleship

It May Be Monotonous But There's Always Plenty To Do.

By ROBERT N. STURDEVANT
Associated Press Features Writer

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET—Cruising 15,000 miles without glimpsing land is like living in the world of water which Noah must have known. His voyage undoubtedly lasted longer than the one we have just completed, but ours was a matter of around five weeks—enough to convince most anyone that a sailor's life has a decided tendency to consist of large doses of the same thing.

Despite this, you hear few complaints from the bluejackets.

On this unit of the fleet morale is seldom mentioned, principally because it is uniformly good. As one seaman told me:

"We don't consider this life any picnic. But most of us volunteered for it and we can take it. Right now we're having it pretty peaceful, but there's always a chance some German will be lucky enough to put a fish (torpedo) in us and that keeps us on our toes."

Everyone Busy

Idleness is only a word in the dictionary to the Navy. A sailor at work has little opportunity to bemoan war's hardships. When, twice a week, he gets a free afternoon he usually spends it in his "sack" catching up on sleep.

Probably the most rugged men aboard a warship are members of the "black gang," the men who tend the boilers which provide the power to drive the ship.

Ensign T. G. Spike took me on a tour of this ship's fire and engine rooms. The temperature was 130 degrees Fahrenheit that day. Spike said that was normal. He added that fire room crews stood four-hour watches.

A man-of-war is a small community in itself. It provides its own utilities—lights, heat and water. There are a laundry, stores, a soft drink and ice cream stand and a hospital.

The medical staff, headed by Commander C. R. Flory of Sellersville, Pa., and assisted by Lieut. Robert Deen of Philadelphia, performed four operations while we were at sea, all for appendicitis.

Dr. Flory told me of an appendectomy he performed during the invasion of French Morocco in which this ship participated. The stricken sailor's condition was so critical that delay might have proved fatal, the surgeon said, so the operation was undertaken while the vessel fired salvo after salvo at the French shore batteries.

The operating room was the Admiral's cabin, which was in use as a battle dressing station.

"The cabin was blue with smoke," Dr. Flory recalled. "Each salvo knocked loose some dust and conditions for operating were next to impossible, but it was a success and the patient recovered in short order."

Such is life aboard a warship.

Boy Swipes Army Plane

By The Associated Press

LONDON—A 14-year-old apprentice fitter, who builds model planes, now knows how it feels to fly a real U. S. Army ship—although it cost him a few bruises and a trip to juvenile court.

The plane was a Piper Cub. The boy said he took it, although he had no flying instructions, because it resembled a model he had built. After a two mile flight the motor stalled and he landed in a clump of trees.

In juvenile court, he was placed on probation for a year for damaging the plane and flying it without a license.

LONDON—German soldiers and civilians now are permitted to bring food and all kinds of goods into Germany from occupied countries duty-free and without a check of luggage, foreign sources here report.

The privilege was extended to civilians after being granted soldiers some time ago. Food imported in that manner is not charged against regular ration allotments.

This was seen as a hint that the Nazis may doubt how long they will be able to loot countries systematically as a state enterprise and have opened the field to individuals to help ease the internal food shortages in the Reich.

Straws in War Winds

Washington Guessers Believe Nazis Won't Fall Until 1944.

By JACK STINNETT
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 3—Some weeks of off-the-record talks here with military and civilian officials have produced some interesting "shadows of things to come." Take them for what they are worth, but they are the well-sifted consensus of some of your government experts. Here goes.

That there isn't a possibility of knocking Germany out of the picture before 1944. The Nazis, preying upon the nationalistic fear of what will happen to Germans if they are defeated now, are going to get more cooperation, not less, in the months of waning militaristic power. The Russians, even with U. S. and British lend-lease aids, can't do the job alone. The axis campaign in North Africa has had but one major objective—upseting the Allied timetable—and it has accomplished that. That doesn't mean a United Nations defeat. It does mean delay.

That it is unlikely that major aid in airpower, manpower or supplies will be diverted to the South Pacific and China immediately. Reduced to its elementary terms, the United States still is fighting a two-front war, with one-front men and equipment. In spite of the unpublicized appeals of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and the open appeals of Madame Chiang Kai-shek and Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, strategists broadly consider the Pacific theater a Navy problem of holding the Japs at bay, while one or more fronts are opened against the Germans and Italians in Europe. Briefly, they contend that is the only way to take advantage of the magnificent military accomplishment of the Russians. To fail to take advantage of that, they argue, would be to bungle the war.

* * *

THAT very shortly the U. S. submarine war in the Pacific will become a greater thorn in the side of the Japs than the German submarine war is against the United Nations in the Atlantic. "Gay 'Nineties" strategists in the Navy, who considered the submarine no more than a reconnaissance unit attached to a task force, have either been weeded out or whipped into line by our submarine records. Figures are not available but I would be surprised if our submarines, which probably didn't number more than 60 or 70 effectives when the Japs hit Pearl Harbor, haven't by now piled up an official record of 200 Jap ships sunk, and an actual record of nearly twice that. In numbers, that doesn't tie the Nazi Atlantic record. In effect, it may exceed it.

* * *

THAT the next big "inconvenience" Americans will have to take on the home front will be the rationing of train and bus travel.

That the "inflationary spiral"—just plain high cost of living—is in its most critical period, and that events of the next few weeks may determine whether inflation is here to stay or is being checked close to present levels. Straws in the wind will be the outcome of the fight by John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers for wage raises which some claim will upset the government wage-scale program; the fight in congress to up farm prices; the growth of black markets; the results of the 48-hour week, with presumably fattened pay envelopes; and the federal tax program, which might be a powerful influence for or against inflation, depending upon how deeply it dips into American purses.

Folk Dancing

Jitterbugging Comes Closest to U. S. Tops in Terpsichore and We Are Serious About It Too.

By DAMON RUNYON

AFTER considerable observation and [illegible] I have come to the conclusion that the [illegible] exciting exposition of [illegible] legs there is what is commonly known as jitterbugging. I am quite serious. I consider it a beautiful form of tripping the light fantastic.

In the first place, it is the essence of youth, and dancing is for youth. Only a few of the styles of dancing go well with mature years—for example the minuet and the statelier forms of waltzing. Even in these dances the old gents and dames would probably look handsomer sitting still, besides forestalling any fear among the onlookers that they are likely to fall apart any minute and bust their galluses.

Jitterbugging calls for that elasticity of frame found only in youth. It brings into play the muscles of the legs and arms and torso. Indeed the more graceful of the exponents of this type of dancing produce one continuous motion from their feet to their foreheads when they are going good. But the legs, it seems to me, are the mainmost things. The legs, male or female, must be of the pliability of angle worms.

THE legs must be capable of twisting and twining like the fish bait mentioned but at the same time must have plenty of resilience to spring back into normal shape, lest they get tied up in a knot during the gyrations and remain that way. In jitterbugging there is no special reference to those anatomical features fore and aft which are the chief considerations of such dances as the rhumba and the conga now favored by the old folks.

This is because youth, perforce, subordinates those sections to less prominence than is possible in age. I have never seen a jitterbug, male or female, of any artistic merit who has that appearance of wearing blown-up life preservers that is characteristic of mature rhumba dancers. The salient feature of jitterbugging is flat hips, or should I say features?

Jitterbugging combines the best of a score of different styles of dancing, beginning with the old square dance of our fathers, but without the yip-yipping that went with that. I am aware that the very mention of the square dance will arouse nostalgic memories among some of the old folks, though personally I thought that it was a somewhat rowdyish display, what with the stomping and the hollering and all. But you find many of the steps toned down, in jitterbugging.

YOU find traces of the one-step and the two-step and the fox trot in jitterbugging. Of the old waltzes and of the clog and the buck-and-wing and the Charleston. Of the acrobatic dancing at which the Mosconis were greatest of all. Of the adagio. Of Isadora Duncan's classical stuff. They are all in there. Is it any wonder that jitterbugging is the finest dancing of all?

It can be acquired by anyone under 25 years of age, if doublejointed, though I think that jitterbugging geniuses are born, not made. The proper costume for a male jitterbug is a sport shirt and for a female bug, a short skirt and bare legs and sox. Some of the female bugs run to slacks, but I feel that this is not giving the spectator a square rattle.

Chickens in Church

Associated Press Features

ST. LOUIS—Some persons go for Victory gardens, but the Rev. George T. Andrews, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church, raises chickens in the church basement for distribution to the parish poor.

Right now the basement is a gastronomic Utopia with 4,700 chickens on the hoof—and more in prospect.

Father Andrews figuratively jumped from the fire into the frying pan in mid-January after serving as a director of the Consumers Coal Co-operative, which sprang up as a source of cheap fuel for the needy.

Aided by an experienced parishoner, the pastor bought 400 chicks, raised them to maturity and sold them to the needy at 20 cents a pound when the market price was 50 cents. Then he sold 200 shares of stock in the chicken co-operative to his parish, reserved some for his church's charitable institutions, and used the money to outfit his basement business.

One-day-old chickens—of pedigreed, blood-tested stock—are placed in brooders arranged in tiers. The tiers have a 2,000-chick capacity and 1,400 fluffy fowl live there now. They are shifted to peat moss pens with wire bases for sanitary purposes as they grow larger, and about 1,700 are in this type enclosure. Still bigger pens care for the older chickens in what formerly was an auditorium and gymnasium.

The co-operative's 100 members recently voted to increase capitalization from $5 to [illegible] a share. The additional money is being used to construct large cages in a garage behind a nearby convent to house grown chickens pending their final distribution.

Once the system is completed, it'll be just eight weeks from shell to skillet.

Commander

No one vouches for this story, which may or may not have happened. It's being told in Washington, however.

A New York millionaire with an estate on Long Island and a passion for boating offered himself and his boats to the navy immediately after Pearl Harbor. He was commissioned a commander and charged with the patrol of certain waters in Long Island Sound.

One night he was ordered by telephone to report to his superior officer the next morning. He was handed sealed orders and given command of a destroyer sailing at 2:30 that afternoon. His protests were ignored. His name was on the sealed orders. He boarded the vessel, [illegible] his cards on the table, received assurance of cooperation from the other officers—and the ship joined a convoy bound for Murmansk. By relentless work and study, the new commander who never had been on a destroyer before was getting the hang of things when the ship returned.

When he reported to his superior officer, however, he was sent back to Long Island Sound. The man for whom the sealed orders [illegible] intended, an Annapolis graduate [illegible] service record, had shown up. Both [illegible] the same name.

"POINT FREE" MEAT SALES ARE BANNED

OPA Warns Retail Dealers Against Practice.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—As the nation's housewives do their first week-end shopping under the meat point-rationing system today, they can choose from stocks which—in most places—are sufficiently increased that the office of price administration has issued a warning against "point free" sales.

While in some instances the pre-rationing rush left butchers' supplies still depleted, the general improvement in stocks during the past week is so marked that cases of unrationed sales to avoid spoilage were reported last night.

OPA promptly said its regulations provided ample protection for butchers whose supplies are threatened with spoilage, and warned "point free" sales would be dealt with sternly. Officials reminded retailers they are permitted to "stimulate sales legally" by lowering point values, providing they post signs to that effect, report to their local rationing boards and follow the OPA-outlined procedure.

Reluctance of housewives to part with their points until they understand their "counter" value better was blamed largely for the cases of over-supply.

Store Ordered To Stop Sugar Sales for Month

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 3—The regional office of price administration announced today a 30-day sugar sales suspension order against Isadore and Lillian Gelman, partners in the Avon super market at Avon, O.

In issuing the order, the OPA's regional hearings commissioner Fred S. Glover said the Gelmans falsely informed their ration board last April 28 that their sugar inventory was 500 pounds when it was 3,413 pounds. The store may not receive or sell sugar for a 30-day period beginning Monday, Glover ruled.

WASHINGTON, April 3—Speechmaking here and elsewhere by Senators Robert A. Taft and Harold H. Burton is developing considerable speculation as to their place in Republican national politics in 1944.

Politically-minded Ohioans are [illegible] that the activities of [illegible] Ohio senators mean their [illegible] will be important factors [illegible] the party's national convention [illegible] Burton's silence on that [illegible] and Taft's indorsement of [illegible] Bricker for the presidential [illegible] nation.

More than a year ago, Senator Burton was mentioned for first [illegible] on the ticket. Lately, it has [illegible] suggested that he might be [illegible] of the Republicans for [illegible] president.

Senator Taft's emphatic statement that he favors Bricker and [illegible] in the running himself has [illegible] eliminated him from consideration. Taft, a leading candi[illegible] in 1940, still is mentioned [illegible] presidential prospects [illegible] discussed.

Talk of prospective vice presidential nominees turned to Burton when he co-sponsored a resolution urging the senate to con[illegible] a basic policy of having the [illegible] States take the lead in organizing the United Nations for [illegible] collaboration in peace.

Allied Diplomats Look for Means of Preventing War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

What guarantees are our harried statesmen going to be able to devise against the wreaking of another war—along the [illegible] when we have ended the present conflict?

The Nazi fuehrer himself practices wholesale sterilization to prevent perpetuation of elements he doesn't like. That's an idea, but sterilization of entire militarist nations doesn't seem to fit in with civilized practices.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, speaking before the Canadian parliament in Ottawa, gave an answer for one angle of this complicated problem in declaring as regards Germany, Italy and Japan:

"There is only one security for mankind in respect to all of them. To insure that they are totally disarmed and in no position ever to try their strength again."

Welles Goes Deeper

Our own Under Secretary of State Welles carried the matter rather deeper in an address the same day in New York City before the Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York. He said:

"In attempting to put an end to war we face a problem that the human race has never yet been able to solve. But of one thing I am perfectly sure: the greatest obstacle to success is defeatism—the assumption that nations are by nature so antagonistic, that foreign peoples are so untrustworthy or that the technical problems of constructing peace machinery are so great that the task is a hopeless one."

That seems to invite the further question of whether human nature can be changed. History is likely to record that the only constructive thing Hitler ever did—unless he cuts his own throat—was to show the world that he could change the characteristics of virtually the entire youth of a great nation in less than a decade by intensive training.

Recently I have talked with thinking people in various countries on this subject. The consensus seemed to be similar methods would have to be employed after the war to make the aggressor nations peace-minded. Of course that couldn't be achieved through the hammering of propaganda into unwilling minds by conquerors. It would have to be done through the medium of axis nationals who are desirous of peace—and those people exist.

Bomb Propaganda

Forcible propaganda does work wonders at times and we are in process of administering it in heavy doses to Germany and Italy. I refer to the terrific bombing which is being carried out, especially against the Nazis.

That bombing is likely to prove a boon to humanity in the long run, strange though it seems. It will help to knock toleration of Prussian militarism out of German heads—and Prussian militarism is the real scourge of Europe. Individual autocrats have come and they have gone, but Prussianism has kept running along.

The allies had a chance to knock it out in the last war, but quit as soon as the Germans yelled "Kamerad," thereby saving the fatherland from the ravages of conflict. The German civilians were hungry, but they never knew what bombing or shellfire was like. Had they experienced the frightfulness which their armies inflicted on the invaded countries, perhaps they wouldn't have been so quick to follow Hitler and the Prussian military machine into a fresh aggression.

Four Attacks Made On Japs in Aleutians

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—American bombers continuing their heavy pounding of the Japanese base at Kiska island in the Aleutians raided the enemy's main camp area there four times Thursday, the Navy reported today, scoring several hits.

Communique No. 333 also said Lightning and Corsair (Vought F4U) fighters attacked and set on fire a small Japanese cargo vessel at anchor at Vella Lavella island, New Georgia group, in the South Pacific.

The attacks in Kiska raised to 38 the total number of raids made since the spring aerial offensive there started March 1.

WARNS SHOE DEALERS

CLEVELAND, April 3—Clifford J. Houser, regional rationing executive, cautioned shoe dealers today that they must fill out and return shoe inventory forms before April 17 if they expect to continue buying and selling new shoes.

DUTCH BURN BIRTH RECORDS

LONDON, April 3—The Netherlands News agency Aneta reported today Dutch patriots in Amsterdam overpowered guards March 27 and set fire to the bureau of vital statistics containing population registers essential to the Nazi draft of labor for German factories.

MASONS TO HONOR 75-YEAR MEMBER

Marion Lodge To Hold Special Session for J. M. Davidson.

Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., at a special meeting held at the Masonic temple last night made final arrangements for a special meeting at the Masonic home in Springfield tomorrow at [illegible] p. m.

Under special dispensation issued by the grand master of the grand lodge of Ohio, Marion lodge will convene in the auditorium of the Masonic home to present a 75-year gold lapel emblem to James Monroe Davidson, a member of Marion lodge who resides at the home. Mr. Davidson will be 97 years old on May 21.

The presentation of the emblem will be made by Harry E. Schramm of Marietta, who is the present grand master.

The lodge will be opened by John W. Jacob as worshipful master of Marion lodge and the other officers of the lodge. Ralph E. Carhart, a past master of Marion lodge, will extend to Mr. Davidson the congratulations of the local Masonic bodies. A gift will also be presented Mr. Davidson by Marion lodge.

Approximately 50 members of Marion lodge will attend the meeting to which all the grand lodge officers have been invited. This is the first time that such an event has occurred in the grand lodge of Ohio and it was necessary to have the emblem made especially for Mr. Davidson.

Mr. Davidson received his Masonic work at Celina, O., March 7, 1868 and became a member of Marion lodge by affiliation Feb. 4, 1898. He is also a member of Marion chapter No. 62, R. A. M., Marion council No. 22, R. and S. M. and Marion Commandery No. 36, K. T.

According to available records he is one of the seven living men who have been Masons for a period of 75 years or longer.

The members will leave from the Masonic temple here between 1 and 2 p. m. tomorrow for Springfield.

CONGRESS

Administrator Prentiss Brown disclosed steps to improve relations between his agency and the public. He announced one of his deputies, Lou Maxon, a Detroit advertising man, had been given authority to "review all actions which bear on OPA relations with the public in order to minimize irritations flowing from them."

General improvement in meat stocks during the past week brought a new problem to the agency—"point free" sales by butchers to avoid spoilage of stocks on hand.

The OPA said its regulations provide ample protection for butchers whose supplies are threatened with spoilage and warned "point free" sales would be dealt with sternly.

Other developments on the Washington front included:

Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes ordered a drastic reshuffling of petroleum supply and distribution system in 15 midwestern states to expand the flow of oil to the east coast.

Secretary Knox disclosed a fleet of huge floating drydocks built to follow the fighting and speed warships back into action, soon will provide a new Navy punch in forthcoming Pacific battles.

Unknown Soldier Bitten by Dog, Warned of Rabies

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3—Soldier—think back! Your life may depend upon it.

If you were the man who was bitten by a dog at the corner of Smithfield street and First avenue in Pittsburgh last Tuesday—report to a doctor immediately.

Second service command headquarters issuing an appeal to the unidentified soldier, said an autopsy performed upon the dog at the Pittsburgh city health department laboratory proved the animal to be infected with rabies.

The Ohio highway patrol also issued an appeal after all efforts to reach the soldier apparently unaware of his peril failed in Pittsburgh.

Marion police authorities were asked today to be on the lookout for the soldier.

The soldier is believed to have been enroute to the railroad station in Pittsburgh at the time he was bitten.

300 Timken Employes On Strike at Canton

By The Associated Press

CANTON, O., April 3—Company and CIO United Steel Workers union officials said more than 300 employes of Timken Roller Bearing Co.'s Gambrinus plant struck last night in protest over dismissal of a fellow worker.

A company spokesman who refused to be quoted, said the work stoppage occurred when 101 of 387 second shift employes left their jobs, and were followed by 200 others on the third shift.

The walkout took place in the same division in which a four-day strike occurred March 15-18 when union members protested promotion of Negro laborers, the spokesman said.

A USWA official, who also refused to be identified, said the new strike "was strictly a wildcat" and was caused by dismissal of a ring leader blamed by the union in the dispute two weeks ago.

AFRICA

allied troops along the 250-mile Tunisian front marked a "breathing spell" in the struggle to drive the axis from Africa but American and British air forces poured explosives on axis rear positions at a rate never before touched in the North African campaign.

Montgomery's desert fighters were still struggling to close a gap of some 45 miles separating them from the American forces under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., driving them from the central Tunisian highlands toward positions north of Gabes and in the rear of the last-reported location of Rommel's troops.

(A Berlin broadcast, unconfirmed elsewhere, said Rommel's present position was 15 miles north of Gabes and represented "the achievement of final union between Rommel's forces and those of Von Arnim.")

The Algiers radio reported axis forces in the north were offering little resistance to a push by the British First Army which had moved well beyond Sedjenane and was slashing at retreating German troops "in the vicinity of Mateur," which is only about 18 miles south of Bizerte.

While Rommel had no natural defense line available to hold the on-pressing British and American forces in check in southern Tunisia, his mine fields and skillfully emplaced machine guns and artillery were reported to be making the American advance on his flank painfully slow.

Allied air superiority which has been brilliantly displayed in the fierce fighting of the past week has crippled several of the enemy's dwindling air bases near the southern front.

Probate Court Worker In Hospital After Fall

Mrs. Fanny Benson of 211 Orchard street, deputy clerk in the probate court, is in the City hospital for observation following a fall last night about 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Benson who had been shopping and was carrying several packages fell at the Prospect street entrance of the Frank Bros. Co. store, as she was leaving the building. She suffered a head injury when she struck the pavement.

Plans Made for Blood Unit's visit To Marion

Final plans were made for the return to Marion of the mobile blood receiving unit on April 12, 13 and 14 at a meeting of the various special volunteer services of the Marion County Red Cross chapter, yesterday at the Red Cross headquarters.

Registration of donors is being made at the Red Cross headquarters. The unit will be quartered at the Epworth Methodist church and the hours are 1 to 6 p. m. Monday, April 12, and 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 13 and 14.

Robert T. Mason is chairman, and Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz is co-chairman of the Marion blood donor committee.

Two Women Killed In Trolley-Train Crash

TOLEDO, April 3—Two women were killed, four persons injured and 20 others escaped unscathed when a Community Traction Co. street car collided with a Pere Marquette railroad passenger train at the Philips avenue crossing today.

The dead are Mrs. Ella Kinner, 40, of Toledo, and Miss Betty Burkhart, 19, of Toledo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burkhart of New Bavaria, O.

Injured included the street car motorman, James E. Watkins, 38, in critical condition; and Kenneth Wulff, 28, Saginaw, Mich., fireman in one of the two locomotives pulling the 14-car passenger train.

PIG IRON, COKE RECORDS SET BY REPUBLIC STEEL

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 3—Republic Steel Corp. reported yesterday its March coke and pig iron production set new company records, and steel ingot production reached 103.1 per cent of capacity.

The corporation said coke production totaled 464,233 tons last month, compared with the previous peak of 416,415 tons in January, 1942. District coke records were established at Cleveland, Canton, Warren, O., and Gadsden, Ala., plants.

March pig iron production totaled 502,587 tons compared with the previous record of 482,265 tons last October with Youngstown, Cleveland, Gadsden and Massillon plants surpassing their previous peaks, Republic added.

New records in monthly steel ingot production were reported in the Youngstown and Gadsden districts and the company's ingot was at 101.6 per cent of capacity rate for the first quarter of 1943.

The company said ingot production the first quarter amounted to 2,218,940 tons against 2,093,808 for the corresponding quarter last year, coke output increased 68,000 tons to 1,268,000 and pig iron increased 139,000 to 1,417,000 tons.

War Plant Worker Shot by Grandfather

By The Associated Press

PAINESVILLE, O., April 3—A young farmer who left a dairy herd for a $50-a-week war plant job was killed by a shotgun blast fired by his wife's enraged grandfather, Coroner W. R. Carl reported today.

The coroner said the grandfather, Charles Headley, nearly 60, killed Walter Grabski, 27, an employe of the Diamond Magnesium Co. here, as Grabski charged up the stairs at Headley's during a quarrel last night at their home in South Madison, O.

Dr. Carl reported that during the quarrel Grabski tore off his wife's dress, and quoted Headley:

"He has come home drunk more than once. He beat up on me two weeks ago. He came home drunk last night and began quarreling with his wife. I went upstairs to keep out of his way. He came up after me."

Sheriff James Moloney of Lake county termed the shooting justifiable homicide and said the county's grand jury would consider the case Monday. Mrs. Grabski is the mother of three small children.

LaGuardia Commission Protested in House

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Published reports that Mayor La Guardia of New York may get a high army commission brought from Chairman Truman (D-Mo) of the senate war investigating committee today the comment that "I don't think he has any more business being a brigadier general" than movie-maker Darryl Zanuck has being a colonel.

Zanuck is a lieutenant colonel in the signal corps, having been commissioned from civil life, and Truman tossed this remark about La Guardia into a committee hearing at which Robert Patterson, undersecretary of war, testified Zanuck had asked for an inactive status.

TRUCK OWNERS WARNED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Failure to turn back to ration boards unused "T" gasoline coupons which have expired may be considered cause for suspension or revocation of a certificate of war necessity, A. F. Dankert, district manager of the office of defense transportation, said today in urging commercial motor vehicle operators to turn in unused first quarter coupons by Monday.

American fighters shot down 16 out of 30 to 40 Japanese Zeros in a violent air battle northwest of Guadalcanal.

The Tokyo claim Japanese fleet planes shot down 17 allied planes indicated a sizable force of Japanese warships in the waters immediately north of Guadalcanal. There was no information, however, whether this force included the five Japanese destroyers attacked by U. S. fliers three nights ago off Kolombangara.

Allied headquarters said United Nations airmen [illegible] on 13 Japanese ships including destroyers in the harbor at Kavieng, New Ireland, 550 miles from the allied base at Port Moresby, New Guinea, and half a dozen others in nearby Steffens strait.

A communique said the raiders scored probable hits on a 10,000-ton Japanese transport and on a 6,000-ton cargo ship, but darkness prevented observation of further results of the attack.

The war department in Washington disclosed U. S. Army fliers had shot down seven Japanese planes for every one they lost in the last three months, destroying 381 enemy aircraft against 31 of their own.

Glider Combat School To Open at Louisville

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3—The United States Army's first glider pilot combat school will open next week at the Bowman field Army air base here with the announced aim of training glider pilots "to become proficient killers."

Equipment, instructors and many of the students of the glider combat school, a unit of the First Troop Carrier Command, already have arrived at the base, officers announced. Hundreds of glider pilots graduated from other Army schools are expected to come here for the 21-weeks course.

Ghost Ship Reaches Port with Skeleton Crew

WASHINGTON, April 3—Given up as lost after a torpedo attack, a "ghost ship" manned by a skeleton crew sailed 700 miles to an allied port, the Navy reported yesterday.

Three survivors of the medium-sized Dutch merchantman reached Boston recently and told of leaving their vessel obviously sinking—its bow deep in the sea, its stern with propellers showing flung high.

She was listed as lost.

But "the vessel herself had decided to refute their judgment," said the Navy.

It told of the captain and 12 men remaining near the sinking ship in a lifeboat. Hours later the vessel began to right herself. The captain and his men boarded her again and found two officers who never had left. That tiny crew managed to sail the vessel to port.

Nearly All in 18 to 38 Group To See Service

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Lt. Com. Patrick H. Winston of Washington told the national dean of men's association in convention here that except for a million or two men who will be deferred "because they are vitally needed," every physically-fit man between 18 and 38 could expect to be in the armed forces by next Jan. 1.

Winston, representing Director Lewis B. Hershey of the selective service system, said the inductions would be necessary because of the "critical need" for manpower.

Army Denies Lewis' Intimidation Charges

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3—Army officials have denied an accusation by John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, that agents of the Army military intelligence intimidated miners with the implied suggestion that a second military front is to be established in the coal fields of the country.

On the heels of Lewis' assertion yesterday that Army men were appearing at district offices in the Fifth and Sixth corps areas, Maj. Gen. H. S. Aurand, commanding general of the Sixth service command, speaking in Chicago, said:

"x x x there are no military intelligence agents in this service command who have the authority to use intimidating tactics. Such action is an impossibility."

At Columbus, O., Maj. Gen. Fred C. Wallace, commanding general of the Fifth service command declared:

"x x x no military intelligence personnel of the Fifth service command has appeared at any district office of the United Mine Workers, has approached any of its officers or any of the miners."

HARDIN CO. POND VICTIM'S RITES HELD

Officials Told Girl Left Home After Disobeying Parents.

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 3—Funeral services [illegible] Alberta D[illegible], Alger high school sophomore whose body was found in a five-foot pool on the Raymond Clark farm three miles north of Alger, were to be held today at the Hanson funeral home in Alger.

A theory that the girl, who had been missing from her home since March 16, ended her life because of remorse over having disobeyed her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Newland, was advanced today by Dr. John A. Mooney, Hardin county coroner. During an inquiry into the girl's death Hardin county officials learned that she had gone to a roadside tavern and remained until after midnight, March 14, against her parents' wishes.

A farmer living near Alger told authorities he talked to her early on the morning of March 16 as she walked from Alger toward Ada. He said she told him she intended to seek a job. Dr. Mooney said the farmer at first said he saw her on March 14 but it was probably Monday, March 15, he said.

The body was found early yesterday morning by Mr. Clark who went to the pond on his farm to cast for bass. Fully clothed, the body was floating on the water, he told Hardin county officials.

Dr. Mooney said appearance of the body indicated it had been in the water for several days and possibly since March 16. An autopsy revealed she had died from drowning. There were no marks of violence.

Surviving are the mother and step-father and two brothers and two sisters.

Beau Jack Whips Henry Armstrong

Shoe-Shine Boy Gets Decision Amid Roar of Boos from Crowd.

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 3—It's very fortunate for Beau Jack that the number of bicycles for domestic consumption was increased this week, because if the Jumping Jack didn't have a two-wheeler with the reverse motion, he probably wouldn't hold a decision over Henry Armstrong today.

The Jumping Jack churned on his velocipede in Madison Square Garden ring last night and back-pedaled furiously for 10 rounds. And at the end, two judges and the referee gave him the verdict over the hammer, who chased him so much the thing began to look like a six-day bike race.

A crowd of 19,986 made so much noise booing the decision that the rafters were rocking and Announcer Harry Balogh couldn't make himself heard to introduce the next fight.

Henry was a whole lot of fighter last night. And when he did manage to catch up with the backward bouncing Beau during the proceedings, he pummeled him around the body until Jack was slowed down to a mild canter and "looking for a door" at the finish.

All the Jumping Jack had in front of him was an ex-champ, a fighter who is nearly 10 years older than the 22-year-old ex-shoe shine boy from Georgia and who was supposed to be washed up despite his 16 wins in 18 comeback starts.

Well, win or lose—and The Associated Press gave li'l perpetual motion five rounds of the 10, voted four for Jack and called one even—Henry looked about as much of a hollow shell last night as the British Eighth army. His legs may be a trifle slower, but he was hotter in the ninth and tenth than he was in the first, as the weary Beau probably was the first to admit at the end.

Now there's talk Promoter Mike Jacobs—who counted a fancy $104,976 house last night—may try to re-match the two for 15 rounds, with the Beau's world lightweight championship—recognized in New York — on the line but Jack's manager said "no thanks."

Same Old Story with Reds—No Hitters

Max Marshall, .255, Will Be Power Puncher of Team's Offensive.

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Features Sports Editor

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—There's an old baseball saying that an outfielder who can't hit ought to pay his way into the park. On that basis Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds could get a gatekeeper here and charge admission to the outfielders at the Cincinnati camp.

For none of them can hit—that is, none can hit in the neighborhood of .300, with enough consistency and distance to give a club offensive power.

In McKechnie's five years with the Reds, Cincinnati has spent around a half million dollars on outfielders and has yet to come up with a hitter. The deluxe model of this spring's produced a terrific average of .255 with the Reds last season.

MAX MARSHALL
His .255 Was Tops

Crabtree May Help

Mild Will, the Wilkinsburg deacon, figures Estel Crabtree, who was with the Cardinals late last year, will help some. But Crabtree is approaching 40 and can't be used regularly. Max Marshall, with a nifty .255 average, and Mike McCormick, with an almost-as-good .237, will be the power punchers of the Reds' outer garden. The others are Frank Kelleher, Hank Sauer from Syracuse, Eric Tipton and Gee Walker, if he joins the club. McKechnie has no idea now which of these will be used. He'll probably do a juggling act with them, trying to extract a lucky hit out of their systems now and then. Frankly, he'd prefer not to think about them — produce headaches, you know.

Honestly, though, there's no use shoving all the blame for the feeble attack on the outfielders — there's not a .300 hitter on the squad. Hitless wonders, that is what they were last year to finish in the first division with the puniest offense in the league.

There's Frank McCormick, .277, at first base; Lonnie Frey, .266 at second; Eddie Miller, .244 at short, and Bert Haas, .239 at third. Despite a couple of poor years McKechnie still is convinced that his big first sacker is a hitter. Perhaps he may not bat as well as he did in 1939-40 when the Reds were pennant winners, but he thinks he can better .277. He also confident that Frey and Haas will do better and that a change of scenery will bring a better average for Miller.

Loosened Joints May Help

The Reds have an expert of relaxation exercises [illegible] body flow on hand who certainly is loosening the [illegible] joints and this in turn may make for better batting. [illegible] hopes so and is giving [illegible] Mauer, who conditioned the Tulsa football team last fall, [illegible]

Ray Mueller, who was with McKechnie a half dozen years ago at Boston, will do the catching. After playing with Pittsburgh in 1939 Ray was returned to the minors and was with Rochester in 1940-41 and Sacramento last season. He had a fine year in the Coast league, hitting .297 and driving in 102 runs.

Cincinnati pitching looks good, as usual. The Reds lost Gene Thompson and sold Paul Derringer but they have Bucky Walters, Johnny Vander Meer, Ray Starr and Elmer Riddle as front liners, with Joe Beggs, Clyde Shoun and four youngsters who should help as fill-ins.

ONCE READY TO QUIT TEX HUGHSON LOOKS GOOD TO RED SOX

Sore Arm Healed, Pitcher Looks Like 30 Game Winner This Year.

By The Associated Press

[illegible]—Tex Hughson [illegible] time a year ago [illegible] ready to quit baseball. [illegible] as a potential 30-game winner for the Boston Red Sox.

He [illegible] expected [illegible] the Red Sox [illegible] of his intentions a year ago. But last spring Tex had a sore arm and he was doubtful of getting it fixed. He had hurt it in August, 1941, soon after joining the Red Sox.

The trouble still was there last spring and finally Hughson told Manager Joe Cronin that unless he could get his arm in shape there was no use staying around. The Red Sox were in Miami to play an exhibition game and Hughson was sent to a young doctor and was left in Miami when the Red Sox pulled out.

"I don't know yet what was wrong, or exactly what cured me," Hughson said today, "but this doctor, a keen young fellow, and the nurse who ran the clinic, injected novocaine in my shoulder and did a lot of bending and stretching of my arm for a few days—and all of a sudden it was well."

Hughson rejoined the Red Sox and made his first start on May 18. He soon became the scourge of the American league and in spite of his late start won 22 games—the most victories in the circuit.

This year a lot of observers think he will win more if he has any kind of a ball club behind him.

Del Baker Happy in Switch from Tigers to Tribe Coach

By The Associated Press

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 3 — Del Baker [illegible] baseball jobs from manager of the Detroit Tigers to [illegible] the Indians coaching [illegible] —Del Baker.

What some might consider the change a bad break, Baker, who piloted the Tigers from 1938 through the 1942 season, says he is completely satisfied and happy in his new duties as a member of the Indians training here.

"I'm happy in my new job," Baker said. "I thought I would hate to [illegible] before accepting [illegible] position as manager [illegible] I played some [illegible] Haven't [illegible] at 25 years. Just [illegible] time I have to enjoy myself. It's a great feeling [illegible] maybe life is just beginning [illegible] me."

Baker, for years a [illegible] catcher, emphasized that he has no ill feelings about losing his managerial post. "President Walter Briggs always treated me swell and I have a lot of respect for him."

Lou Boudreau, Cleveland manager, is quick to praise the [illegible] named Baker as a valuable addition.

"You ought to see what he's doing with pitcher Al Milnar," exclaimed the 25-year-old skipper. "Milnar always had a hesitation in his wind-up and it even got so bad the batters could tell when he was going to throw. Well, Del has been working on him this spring. Now he's windmilling the ball without a hitch. He may win a lot of games for us this season. Baker deserves all the credit, although he won't admit it."

Heartened by assurance of a complete outfield with Hank Edwards' renewed 3-A draft status, the Indians meet the Pittsburgh Pirates today in the first game of a two-day series, their first professional competition in this season's northern training routine.

The Tribe broke camp at Lafayette, Ind., yesterday in near-perfect physical condition.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 3—The National Pro football league will start a three-day meeting in Chicago Tuesday to decide what's what for next fall . . . Three or four clubs have hinted that they'd like to suspend for the duration but Prexy Jack Mara of the Giants figures if the others vote to play, the lukewarm gents will string along with them. Otherwise the word is the franchises likely will be "frozen" and the remaining players distributed among the other clubs.

* * *

Optimistic Note—Still quoting Mara. "From what we have heard there will be a good many football players next fall—boys in the various reserves who don't expect to be called until December or January and those who have been deferred. . . . As long as we can get eleven men (maybe just a few more, eh, Jack?) and the other guys can get eleven there'll be football at the Polo grounds. . . . Maybe we'll have to put a call out before the games and get some of thoses old "All Americans or Monday morning quarterbacks in the stands to come end help us."

* * *

Changing the Subject—The Indians claim that Pitcher Joe Heving is the only grandfather still active in the big leagues. . . . John Wiethe, the oversized ump who used to be a pro footballer, has retired as an American association arbiter to devote all his time to his law practice.

* * *

Today's Guest Star—Jimmy Murphy, Canton, Ill, Daily Ledger: "Pitcher George Munger of the Cardinals is a chicken pox patient and Eddie Lake, Red Sox infielder, is suffering from measles . . . and we thought there'd be no kids in baseball this year."

* * *

Service Dept.—Lieut. Matt Tischler, former Illinois athlete now athletic officer at the Army air force gunnery camp at Apalachicola, Fla, figures it's an aid to morale to have the obstacle course end right at the door of the hospital. . . . He claims the soldiers are thrilled to be able to complete the course and walk the other way instead of being carried through the door.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA—Mike Belloise, 130½, New York, outpointed Charlie Williams, 130½, Philadelphia (8).

TAMPA, Fla.—Sgt. Tommy Gomez, 193, U. S. army, stopped Tony Musto, 197, Chicago (1).

REDS AND CHICAGO MEET IN LOUISVILLE

National League Teams Play Today and Sunday.

By The Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 3—Cincinnati's rarin'-to-go Rhinelanders invaded Louisville today for the opening of the spring exhibition schedule with a two-game series against the Chicago White Sox. Ray Starr is slated for hill duty for the first five innings and Manager Bill McKechnie indicated Fireman Joe Beggs would finish the game.

Johnny Vander Meer, the double no-hitter, is expected to receive the mound call tomorrow.

McKechnie named Heinie Mueller for backstopping chores today, Frank McCormick on first; Lonnie Frey, Eddie Miller and Bert Haas at the other infield posts with Max Marshall, Mike McCormick and probably Eric Tipton in the outer gardens. There is a possibility Frank Kelleher will receive the left field call over Tipton.

Gerald Walker is expected to join the club in Louisville late today with his return to the fold after a holdout siege.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

By The Associated Press

WALLINGFORD, Conn.—Lefty Gomez, former New York Yankee hurler now with the Boston Braves, gets a chance to try his new delivery today in a six-inning camp contest. Gomez has been experimenting with a wind-up that starts with his arm far back and ends with him throwing his pitch overhead. He has had considerable success with it in the indoor drills.

* * *

HERSHEY, Pa.—Owner Bill Cox of the Philadelphia Phillies says purchase of Shortstop Garton Del Savio from Cincinnati is just a starter in his efforts to rebuild the infield and that he expects at least one more infielder, possibly two, soon.

* * *

LAKEWOOD, N. J.—The New York Giants and the Jersey City Giants tangle in an exhibition game today but the site is a military secret. Newspapermen have been barred from seeing the game and the location is defined only as an eastern Army camp.

* * *

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—Commissioner K. M. Landis has been given a detailed report on the argument Chicago Cub Manager Jimmy Wilson had Thursday with Umpire Art Passarella in an informal game with the White Sox. Wilson was banished after a lusty protest over Stan Hack being called out on an attempted steal of home.

* * *

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—Chicago's White Sox, who travel to Louisville today for the first of a two game series with the Cincinnati Reds, still are dogged by the flu. Two of the victims, Thornton Lee and Jim Webb have had relapses and have been joined by Tom Turner. All three now are under observation. The Sox will play George Air Field near Vincennes, Ind., next Thursday.

* * *

MEDFORD, Mass.—A rookie, Al Olsen of Sacramento, and a veteran, Mace Brown, will follow Tex Hughson to the mound today for the Boston Red Sox in their battle with the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field.

SMITH AND FORD BATTLE FOR SWIMMING HONORS

O. S. U. and Yale Men Are Whole Show.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3 — As a team event, there's nothing much to the current national A.A.U. indoor swimming championships except Ohio State, but the duel between Ohio's Billy Smith and Yale's Alan Ford is all it was cracked up to be.

These two freshmen record-breakers, Smith from Hawaii and Ford from the Panama Canal Zone, clashed three times in yesterday's opening program with honors about even. Today they're due to meet again in the 100-yard dash, Ford's specialty in which he has bettered the world record twice this season, and in the medley relay race. Smith, whose smooth and apparently effortless stroking seems more effective in the longer distances, also will try to lift the 440-yard free style title from his little Hawaiian teammate, Keo Nakama.

Ohio State, favored to add the A.A.U. team title to its Big Ten and National Collegiate A.A. laurels, piled up 24 points in yesterday's five events as compared to 15 for Michigan, 10 for Rutgers and eight for Yale.

Cleveland's Outfield Situation Is Eased

By The Associated Press

NORWALK, O., April 3 — The Cleveland Indians' desperate outfield situation was relieved somewhat yesterday when selective service board No. 1 announced that Hank Edwards, hard-hitting 23-year-old rookie, was being retained in class 3-A because of dependency.

The unmarried outfielder was one of only three gardeners left in the Tribe's spring training camp at Lafayette, Ind., after Fabian Gaffke decided to give up the game. Holdout Jeff Heath is the only other outfielder on the Cleveland roster.

Board No. 1 recently ordered Edwards to take a physical examination, leading to fears the Indians would be left with only two outfielders, but resurveyed the case last night and decided, a board member said, to continue the deferment because of unusual dependency conditions.

Edwards is understood to be the sole support of his family—father, mother, and three school children—and two brothers are in service. The board member asked that he not be quoted by name.

PHILS GET SHORTSTOP

By The Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind, April 3—The Cincinnati Reds released Garton Del Salvio on waivers today to the Philadelphia Phils. Del Salvio, a shortstop, may replace Bobby Bragan. He played the position at one time with Birmingham, but was out of the game last year.

Unharvested Soybeans Are Good Fertilizer

Farmers Urged To Plant Corn in Fields.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—John A. Slipher, extension agronomist of Ohio State university, urges farmers grow corn this year in fields where 1942 crops of unharvested soybeans are plowed under.

Thousands of acres of last year's soybeans, now so badly weather damaged that harvesting is impractical, will be plowed under, Slipher said, and farmers are seeking to get the greatest benefits from the supply of plant foods in the discarded crop.

"A soybean crop which would have yielded 27 bushels per acre," Slipher said, "will place 143 pounds of nitrogen per acre in the soil, one pound more than a crop of red clover plowed down. The soybeans contain more phosphorus than the clover, but less potash.

"The fertility elements in the soybeans are not as quickly available as those present in most commercial fertilizers, but Ohio farmers can expect increases of from eight to 15 bushels of corn per acre where soybeans are plowed down. There also will be residual balances of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash which will become available to crops which follow the corn."

Victory Gardens Topic of Grange Discussion

Lester Watts, legislative agent, gave a report on agricultural goals for 1943 when Salt Rock Grange met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Irene Gibb, Doris Ulmer, George Bosley Jr. and Floyd Barrett were chosen to represent the Grange in a spelling contest to be sponsored by Morral P.-T. A. at the school April 7. Two applications for membership were received.

Victory gardens were discussed by a group composed of A. J. Bishop, Rev. Rice, Mrs. Ray Washburn, Betty Hughes, Harley Cook and Floyd Barrett. Mary James read a quotation. Mrs. Rice gave a reading on Victory Gardens. An exchange of bulbs, seeds and shrubs was held.

Next meeting will be held April 13. It will be the fifteenth anniversary of the Grange and charter members will be honored.

Forest Brothers Home from Foreign Service

Special to The Star

FOREST—Technical Sergeant Samuel W. Webb was home for a brief visit with his parents before entering officers' candidate school. He has been in the Hawaiian Islands for the past two years and was at Pearl Harbor at the time of the Japanese attack. His brother, Master Sergeant Walter Webb, recently was home for a short leave, after having spent four months on Guadalcanal. The two brothers have not seen each other for nearly three years. Both are in the States to attend Officers' Training Schools.

Cpl. William Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Burke, who has been stationed the past six months at the Army Air Base in Charleston, S. C., was transferred this week to Detroit, Mich., where he will take a four-weeks' special course at the Henry Ford Mechanics school.

Pvt. Richard Hammond arrived home Wednesday from Camp Bowie, Texas, on a 10-day furlough, recuperating from a recent operation.

Pvt. Charles Kackley of Camp Phillips, Kansas, is home on a furlough.

Lt. and Mrs. Merritt M. Corbin have arrived home from Needles, Calif. Lt. Corbin has been transferred to Ft. Knox, Ky.

Aviation Cadet William C. Jones has successfully completed his pre-flight training at Santa Ana, Army air base at Santa Ana, Calif, and has been ordered to an advanced flying school for further instructions as a bombardier-navigator.

HOPE AND DOROTHY LAMOUR are co-starred in a story [illegible] activities in Washington, 'They Got Me Covered,' at [illegible] theater Sunday through Wednesday. Here Bob and [illegible] attempt to light their way out of a particularly fog-ridden [illegible] and the Nazi agents are closing in.

Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour in Feature Film at Palace

The Palace theater Sunday through Wednesday will show "They Got Me Covered," starring Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour.

Hope plays the role of Bob Kittredge, Moscow correspondent of the Amalgamated News Agency, who muffs the German invasion of Russia and is called home in disgrace and violently discharged. Going to Washington to visit his girl friend, Christine Hill (Dorothy Lamour), Kittredge gets a tip on a story regarding Nazi spy activities in this country and goes after it.

Trailed by Gestapo gunmen, the informer is unable to give Kittredge the information, but subsequently dictates it to a stenographer friend of Christine. The Nazis get the girl's notebook and then, unable to read her shorthand, kidnap her.

Kittredge tries to find his informer-friend, but falls into the hands of the Nazis. Fearing an investigation if they kill him, the spies evolve an ingenious plot to discredit Kittredge and make him the laughing-stock of the country. But Christine remains true to him and between them the pair manage to rescue the girl, round up the Nazis and straighten out Kittredge's professional and matrimonial future.

Shep Fields and his orchestra are scheduled to appear in person Thursday. His band includes nine saxophones and four rhythm instruments. Also featured are a group of entertainers.

On the screen Thursday is "Lucky Jordan" starring Alan Ladd and Helen Walker. The picture presents Ladd as an underworld big shot who tries to evade the draft but learns that Uncle Sam is one guy who can't be "fixed."

Ohio Shows 'Dixie Dugan'

Comic Strip Character Now on Screen in Person of Lois Andrews.

Putting her best foot forward, an American comic strip character steps out of the funnies and onto the screen in the comedy, "Dixie Dugan," now playing at the Ohio theater through Monday.

Lois Andrews plays the title role. Pa is played by Charlie Ruggles, Ma by Charlotte Greenwood. Also featured are Eddie Foy, Jr., James Ellison, Helene Reynolds, and Ann Todd. Ma and Pa Dugan have their hands full as Dixie goes gallivanting in wartime Washington, sabotaging saboteurs and foiling fifth columnists.

Along with "Dixie Dugan" is the first technicolor battle report of the American invasion of North Africa, "At the Front." The picture was produced by the United States Army Signal Corps, and is an actual play by play account of American warfare in North Africa. Forty-two fighting cameramen from the Army and the Office of Strategic Services photographed the scenes in North Africa in November and December of 1942. Scenes of the film include footage taken on a Mediterranean convoy in Algeria and Tunisia.

Coming Tuesday through Thursday is a double feature, "Time to Kill" and "He Hired the Boss."

The story of "Time to Kill" starring Lloyd Nolan as a breezy sleuth, traces the theft of a rare and valuable coin, and the murders which follow. With Nolan in this mystery-comedy are two beautiful girls, Doris Merrick and Heather Angel.

"Raffles" on Twin Feature Program at State Theater

"Raffles," the story of a gentleman crook, will be shown at the State theater Sunday and Monday. David Niven is in the title role with Olivia de Haviland and Dame May Whitty.

Also appearing Sunday and Monday will be "Men of Texas," a romantic adventure picture based on post Civil War days. Included in the cast are Robert Stack, Brod Crawford and Jackie Cooper.

Tuesday and Wednesday the features will be "The Falcon Takes Over," starring George Sanders and Wendy Barrie and "Riders of the Bad Lands," featuring Charles Starrett and Russell Hayden.

Ray Middleton and Jean Parker are cast in the top roles of "Girl From Alaska," a drama of the Alaskan gold rush days, Thursday through Saturday. The second feature will be "Sunset Serenade," starring Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes and Bob Nolan.

Thrillers On Marion Bill

Week's Program Opens with "Gorilla Man" and "Seven Miles from Alcatraz."

"Gorilla Man" starring John Loder and Ruth Ford and "Seven Miles from Alcatraz," with Bonita Granville and James Craig in supporting roles, will start at a midnight show Saturday and run through Monday at the Marion Theater.

"Gorilla Man" is the story of a group of Nazi spies operating in a sanitarium in the South of England who receive word that a British Commando group carrying military information is expected to land nearby. The spies meet the Commandos and persuade the wounded captain to take refuge at the sanitarium.

"Seven Miles From Alcatraz" is the story of two convicts who make a successful getaway from the federal prison in San Francisco bay and take refuge in a lighthouse.

"The Affairs of Martha," starring Marsha Hunt and Richard Carlson, is about a modern family in a social whirl, a housemaid who writes books, and a gossip columnist with a hot tip, all of which bring about exciting complications. It is coming to the Marion Tuesday and Wednesday along with "Nightmare" with Diana Barrymore and Brian Donlevy.

"Nightmare" deals with the murder of one Captain Stafford.

"Sherlock Holmes and the Voice of Terror" starring Basil Rathbone and Evelyn Ankers and "Deep in the Heart of Texas" with Fuzzy Knight, Jennifer Holt and William Farnum will be on the Marion screen Thursday through Saturday.

"Sherlock Holmes and the Voice of Terror" matches Sherlock against enemy agents who broadcast the announcement of an act of sabotage, then proceed with the actual destruction.

The story of "Deep in the Heart of Texas" deals with the fight to establish law in the Lone Star state during the dangerous period following the Civil war.

In the vicinity of Tunis, Africa, more than a hundred varieties of dates grow on a million palm trees.

For late model ('40 or '41) Cars — all makes.

Are you hanging onto a car that you are using only occasionally, thinking you'll trade it in when the war is won?

Better not, because cars not used regularly are likely to DETERIORATE in value. They will be WORTH LESS in a year from now than RIGHT NOW!

Yet if you sell that car, You'll HAVE THE CASH for a future down payment. Or take War Bonds and let them GROW.

Meanwhile your car will go to an ESSENTIAL WAR WORKER who will really USE it—really make it give for Victory.

Better see us now. Call, phone or write for more information.

STOCKS MOVE HIGHER AGAIN

Utilities and Scattered Rails Move Up, but Some Industrials Are Weak.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3—Utilities and scattered rails moved to new high ground for the year or longer in today's stock market while numerous industrials remained on the wrong side of the track.

There was little change in the generally favorable war and economic pictures but many customers inclined to convert profits into cash pending more definite signs yesterday's technical stumble had been completed.

Large blocks of low-priced issues helped put the two-hour volume at around 700,000 shares.

Independent strength was exhibited by Western Union and Postal Telegraph preferred. Radio Corp. common was a lively performer in the wake of the announcement the concern's preferred "B" stock would be redeemed at par and accrued dividends.

In the supported class were Consolidated Edison, Electric Power & Light, Zenith Radio, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Texas Co.

Laggards included Bethlehem, General Motors, American Can, Goodrich, J. I. Case, Deere, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and United Aircraft.

Bonds were mixed and commodities lower.

One Dead, Two Wounded in Reconciliation Attempt

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 3—A husband's attempted reconciliation with his estranged wife ended in his death and the wounding of two other persons, Coroner Austin Richards reported today.

The coroner said Floyd A. Hawkins, 35, apparently shot and killed himself after wounding Roy Hurdle, 38, and Hurdle's sister, Msr. Clara Shook, 32, in the latter's home where Hawkins went seeking his wife, Freda.

City hospital attaches reported Hurdle in a critical condition from an abdominal wound and Mrs. Shook, shot in the right shoulder, in fair condition.

Bricker Points To State's Place in Government

Ohio Executive Addresses Governors in Chicago.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3—Crediting the states with forcing appointment of a federal food administrator, Gov. Bricker of Ohio declared yesterday the demand is not answered "unless the job is done and action follows the creation of the authority."

The Ohio executive spoke at a luncheon meeting of a regional conference of the council of state governments, of which he is an executive committee member.

Governor Bricker credited the recent agricultural conference of central states governors at Des Moines, at which needs of the farmer were stressed, with forcing federal action to foster food production and obtain better distribution of food products.

"The states have the responsibility today of following through not only in our own field of service, which encompasses a great deal of agricultural production, but to demand that the federal government release all the power of production possible that people might eat," the executive said.

Spot Wool Business Still Lags in Boston

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, April 2—The Commercial Bulletin said of the Boston wool market today:

"Broad mill activity in wool, but most in raw material at far-flung points, has marked the week. Spot business remains a minor quantity, only because of restricted offerings. Mill demand has been quickened by the new government procurement program in cloth.

"Manufacturers are interested in taking over wool contracted by dealers and are still avid for foreign grades enroute to this country. The trunover of imports to arrive later is figured to have been very substantial.

"Dealers have been buying wool on the sheep's back over a wide area in the far west. Prices paid have been at close to ceilings in most cases lately."

The paper published the following unchanged Ohio quotations:

Domestic fleeces—Delaine unwashed 49-50; ½ blood combing 50-51; ⅜ blood combing 53-54; ¼ blood combing 53-54.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

OLGA'S EYES were starry with emotion, and I knew her generous nature understood the generous gesture, with its crucifixion of feminine pride, which Mary had made for the sake of Olina.

"I never can repay her," Olga said, then added thoughtfully "I wonder if Olina guessed."

"She never must guess," I said, "that Mary staged that scene because of her. But if she likes that that Mary gave that exhibition in order to disgust Georges, she must be made to believe that Mary did it because she dreaded another series of jealous scenes with Noel such as he had just staged over Stephen Redfield, and that while she knew Georges was not sincere, she was afraid he might be mischief-loving enough to badger Noel by pretending an interest in herself."

Both Philip Veritzen and Dicky leaned forward in their chairs and clapped their hands vigorously.

"Bravo, also brava and bravura," Dicky said. "I don't know you had it in you. That ought to be an explanation to end all explanations."

"Most ingenious," Philip Veritzen said, but his wife took me into her arms as I rose to meet her.

Olga Grateful

"You have found a way to spare my darling's pride," she said, "and I am so grateful!" Then, still holding me, she put another question.

"If Olina speaks to me about it, may I send her to you? I will tell her that you understand Mary's psychology better than anybody; better, I am sure, than does her husband."

"That, undoubtedly," Noel's father said with a wry smile.

"Of course you may send her to me," I told Olga. "And now I must crave your favor. Father asked me to give Mary a message before she left, and I did not have a chance. Will you excuse us if we leave you now? Then I will stop on my way down and give her the message."

"I would wish you to stay indefinitely," Olga said smiling, "but I have no more questions to ask, so if you feel that you really must go, I won't keep you."

"Speak for yourself, Woman," Dicky said to me. "This is a good fire, with good company before it. I don't want to go home. But I know one doesn't forget your father's mandates with impunity. So come along."

Will Georges Suspect?

As we waited for the elevator, after taking our leave, Dicky cautiously looked around and said in a low voice:

"D'ye think Olina will swallow that yarn? And isn't there a chance Georges may get to thinking things over and wondering why for, and what the hell?"

"I can't answer another question tonight," I told him ruefully. "In the first place I don't know the answers, and in the second I'm terribly tired."

"Okay, Sweet," he said. "But is it on the free list to ask what the Dad wants you to tell Mary?"

"Oh, surely!" I answered. "He simply wants me to tell her to be ready at eight o'clock this morning for me to come over and stage that accident to her."

"If you want any help in [illegible] her," Dicky asked, grinning, "I'm a good strong arm man."

"No, thank you," I told him, and then the elevator came and we went down.

Mary answered the door and I told her my errand quickly. As I turned to go, I heard Dicky say "How about it, Brat? How's the husband taking it?"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Stone in Kidney

One of the oldest, most persistent and long-lived of mankind's wishful hopings has been to find some remedy which will dissolve stones in the body and therefore obviate the necessity for an operation. It is easy to understand why hope should be born over and over again in the mind of every new victim of a gallstone colic or kidney-stone colic.

But the fates and natures are against the likelihood of any such medicament being discovered. After all, a stone is a stone and therefore it is not as easy to dissolve as human flesh. If you had a stone in the palm of the hand and attempted to pour an acid or any other chemical on it which would dissolve it, do you not think that the chances of dissolving the skin on the palm of your hand are going to be better than dissolving a stone, and that the skin would go, while the stone was still intact?

Such remedies have to go through the mouth, which itself has a very delicate mucous membrane which would get scorched, into the stomach and be absorbed into the blood and still, when they reach the gallbladder or the pelvis of the kidney, they must be strong enough to destroy the stone. To revert once more to my favorite quotation on this subject: the Duke in Huckleberry Finn had a remedy to remove tartar from the teeth. He said it would, too, although it removed the enamel along with the tartar.

But nobody needs to be ashamed of harboring this hope about dissolving stones. It goes back to the very dawn of time. I have before me a little book published in 1741 called An Account of the Remedy for the Stone.

This remarkable example of man's gullibility describes the discovery of a woman named Mrs. Stephens who was referred to as being of a gentle family in Berkshire, although what that has to do with it, I don't know. She was awarded 5,000 pounds by parliament for this remedy.

The description of the remedy itself leaves a good deal to be desired in the way of exact information. The account says that it is a sort of soap dissolved in a decoction of diuretic and carminative plants, but such vagueness is usual with quacks when they describe their remedies.

However, a partial answer to man's old plea for a method of dissolving the stone has been given by two Boston physicians. I report it as an example of medical progress, although it will not do you any good in the sense that it is something you can take by mouth and make all well. It must be injected into the pelvis of the kidney by an instrument, the cystoscope. It seems to work very successfully and is obviously more desirable than an operation, especially for large stones. So we may have some expectation at least, that progress is being made along these lines.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, April 4

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a most propitious one for all public, social, affectional and cultural activities and aspirations. The pursuit of these may unfold sudden and dramatic aspects, as gratifying as unexpected. There might be gift or bequest, but in legal affairs be alert.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very progressive and productive year, with a sudden advancement or public recognition, or substantial token of esteem. Social, domestic and affectional relations give much pleasure.

A child born on this day may have unusual talents, with much originality and creative ability, which should assure public esteem.

* * *

For Monday, April 5

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a moderately lively state of affairs, in both public, business and private life, but it is not certain that there will be great progress or profit by the outlay of even mediocre efforts. A native tendency to exaggerate and squander may lead to loss.

Those whose birthday it is may find affairs moving along at moderate tempo, but not with any particular profit or success.

A child born on this day while having energy and talent may defeat itself by over-indulgences of a personal as well as business nature. Thrift, prudence and care with associates are advised.

MISSING NEARLY A YEAR 3 U. S. FLIERS RESCUED

Trio Picked up from Island Held by Japs.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—The rescue of three members of the Army air forces who had been missing in action for nearly a year was announced today by the war department.

Second Lieut. Marvin C. Hughes of Baird, Tex.; Second Lieut. Eugene D. Wallace, Los Angeles, and Pfc. Dale D. Bordner, Chillicothe, Mo. were picked up by the Royal Australian air force March 26 on the northern coast of Japanese-held New Britain, in the same general area as the enemy base at Rabaul.

No details of the rescue were reported. The men had been listed as missing in the Southwest Pacific area since last May 24.

Bordner attended business college at Chillicothe, O., and enlisted January 29, 1941, at Fort Hayes, O.

BRITISH SHIPS BUSY

By The United Press

LONDON—Over 2,250,000 persons, including members of the armed services and civilians, were carried last year by British merchant marine ships of the Sea Transport Service, or ships otherwise controlled by the Ministry of Transport, it was revealed here. This number is almost four times the total of passengers carried in ordinary passenger ships between the United Kingdom and non-European countries before the war.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

America's Railroads are moving about a million men a month. Troop trains have the right-of-way . . . Long queues of steel coaches, loaded to the steps with thousands of men in khaki. The cost runs into millions of dollars.

Your purchase of War Bonds helps pay the railroads for the gigantic task of transport they have undertaken in addition to their extra heavy war time traffic. Troop transport is one of the more important branches of our modernized army. Buy more and more War Bonds every payday. "You Have Done Your Bit, Now Do Your Best."
